Warren Republicans To Greet Dewey At Pittsburgh Monday

A delegation of Warren county Republicans will go to Pittsburgh on Monday to meet Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the GOP standard bearer in the campaign for President of the United States. They will gather with leaders from all portions of the state to attend a series of conferences on the campaign and the day promises to be a busy one. Pennsylvania Republicans are planning a campaign to carry the state for Dewey and Bricker and expect to poll a heavy vote. The New York governor will arrive at 8:55 a. m., and will depart for Springfield, Ill., and a similar series of conferences at 9:44 p. m. During the day and evening, he will have scarcely a minute to himself, according to the schedule as outlined for the brief visit. In addition to Gov. and Mrs. Martin, other official greeters will be State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, State Vice Chairman Edna Carroll, National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett, National Committeewoman Mrs. Worthington.

Bishop Wroth Undergoes An Operation

Associated Press wires this morning carried the information that Bishop Pinkney Wroth, of Erie, formerly of the Trinity Memorial Church of this city had undergone a serious operation yesterday. It was later learned that Bishop Wroth was resting well today following the operation.

Warren friends of Bishop Wroth had learned some days ago that he had been ill since July 18 and had been in St. Vincent's Hospital under the care of Dr. Elmer Hess, of Erie.

The host of Warren friends of the churchman extend best wishes for a speedy recovery.

Republican candidates for state and national office, headed by Senator James J. Davis, also will be present.

Dewey's busy schedule: 8:55 a. m.—Arrival, followed by brief parade downtown. 10 a. m.—Press conference. 11 a. m.—Conference with labor representatives. 11:30 a. m.—Conference with business leaders. 12 noon—Conference with agriculture spokesmen. 12:30 p. m.—Conference with war veterans. 1 p. m.—Luncheon with Republican candidates. 2 p. m.—Conference with U. S. Senator James J. Davis, candidate for reelection, and Republican congressional candidates. 3:30 p. m.—Reception for the general public. 5 p. m.—Dinner with members of the Republican state executive committee. An evening press conference will follow the dinner.

TO BE ORDAINED
The Rev. William T. Lane, who recently assumed his duties as pastor of Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church here, left this morning with Mrs. Lane and their son for Rome, N. Y., where he will be ordained on Sunday evening in his home church, Trinity Evangelical Reformed.

CORN IN MARKET
Green corn is in the market from Warren county fields and it is priced at about 45 cents the dozen in most stores. The vegetable is finding ready sale and along with tomatoes, cucumbers and other food products from nearby farms is forming a large part of the diet of Warrenites.

CLASS PRESIDENT
Word is received today from Pennsylvania State College that Terry L. Ruhlman, Warren sophomore majoring in chemical engineering, has been elected president of the fourth semester class. In addition to his class duties, he will be a member of the All-college Cabinet, highest student governing body.

MANY AT MEETING
The annual Pleasantville Camp Meeting of the Free Methodist Church is now in session and a number from this city are in attendance. The attendance is large and the program will have some eminent church leaders as speakers. The camp meeting will be followed in a few days by a Young People's conference which will be held on the camp meeting grounds.

15 INJURED IN TROLLEY CRASH IN QUAKER CITY
Philadelphia, July 28.—(P)—Two crowded trolley cars collided head-on at a residential area intersection today, injuring 15 persons, throwing scores of passengers from their seats and causing several women passengers to faint as flying glass spread over their heads.

The accident occurred at the peak of the morning rush. Persons standing at the intersection hoped police to remove the injured.

NOTICE
The office of Dr. H. R. Robertson will be closed from July 31st to August 14th. 7-28-44.

Straight pins were banned for use of the War Department to save steel.

TIMES TOPICS

NO SERVICE

Because of the pastor's absence from the city, there will be no Sunday morning preaching service in the Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church, but Sunday school will be at 10:45 as usual.

ESCAPED ARREST

Police last night were notified that a man with a car on the East Side was in no condition to drive it and they hastened to the scene. However, when they arrived they discovered that a friend had driven the fellow home and he had escaped arrest.

AT SHEFFIELD TODAY
This afternoon a representative of the G. G. Greene, Inc., is at Sheffield with a representative of the War Manpower Commission interviewing men and women for places in the company's plant on Fourth avenue. The Greene Company recently purchased the building formerly occupied by the Warren Wholesale Company and is busy there with an essential war product for which help is urgently needed.

RUSH SHIPMENT
In order to get needed replacements to a city in New Jersey for an important piece of work the Bashline Company, of North Warren last evening sent forth a ton of material by express. It was loaded in the baggage car of the train on a preferred shipping arrangement so that no transfer in Philadelphia would be necessary as the train goes direct into New York and stops at the city for which the shipment was billed.

INVESTIGATING FIRE
Special Officer Armbruster, of the New York Central Police Department spent yesterday in the city probing the fire which took place in a box car of the railroad this week. He rounded up a group of boys who were questioned at the local police station but no information was received on which arrests might be based. It is thought the fire resulted from boys playing in the car.

INSPECTION DATE ENDS
Monday will be the last day on which to affix an inspection sticker on the old jalopy. The period set for inspection of all motor cars ends at midnight Monday and if the sticker is not in place the car cannot be driven. It has been stated by the State Revenue Department that there will be no extension allowed after the deadline, midnight July 31st. The number of inspection stations in the state have been cut down and a final rush will swamp the stations and delay the inspection.

TO ATTEND BRADFORD MEET
John P. Fenstermacher, Edward W. Johnson, Forest W. Waite and A. F. Kottcamp are in Bradford this afternoon and evening representing the Warren Chamber of Commerce at a District Conference of men and women conducting local organizations throughout Warren, McKean, Elk, Forest and Cameron counties. The conference is being sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce and the Pennsylvania Commercial Secretaries Association. The Bradford Chamber will entertain the Conference at a dinner at the Emery Hotel at 7 p. m. Secretary Kottcamp is one of the three conference speakers.

Excellent Program Arranged For "Pop" Concert Tonight

may be traced through the selection in its various moods. Old Comrades', written in tribute to the dead of the first world war, is one of the outstanding marches of continental origin. The Old Timers' Waltz brings back memories of the days when the sorrow with the fringe on top was an every day sight, rather than a song title, and to say that the S. I. B. A. was an R. B. Hall march tells the veteran bandman that it is worth listening to.

The vocal number is thoroughly two-fisted and you will probably find yourself humming along with it.

It is understood that plans are under way to repeat this concert at the State Hospital about a week later.

This concert is the second of the three "pop" concerts scheduled for this summer. The Struthers-Wells band having presented one a month ago, and the National Forge being scheduled to present the final one of the series the latter part of next month.

With each program chosen by a different director, the varied nature of the music presented is sure to satisfy all tastes in music and it is probable that the character of future presentations will be tempered by the reception accorded the various selections offered in this series of concerts.

Remember the time and place, and get there early enough to be sure of being able to get a seat.

7. Garbolin, a rail center, 30 miles southeast of Warsaw.

8. Other Russian troops broke into Siedlec, another rail center 50 miles due east of Warsaw where street fighting was in progress.

All these tremendous achievements gave Germany her blackest day of the nearly five years of war. The conquests were never matched in the peaks of the German blitzkrieg (lightning war.)

Cabins Draw Attention From Prospective Hunting Parties

Gilbert Peterson, of Sheffield, spent the day in Warren on business and while here discussed plans which are maturing for a hunting camp which he will erect on his property along the Six Mile. Mr. Peterson has a camp of his own which he has completed and it is comfortable and well arranged. But in addition to this cabin he plans to erect 20 others which he will rent.

So far three of the cabins are completed. He has erected them of brick to foil the inroads of the porcupines, who gnaw their way into and around cabins built of wood. They are also finished with concrete floor and concrete porches. Each also has a natty fireplace where a good old wood fire can be set blazing on cool days and evenings. The cabins will be rented by the year and insurance and police protection will be given them so that campers may safely leave their equipment in the cabins.

Already the news of the new cabins has traveled far and last Sunday a party from Erie visited the camp and inspected the cabins preparatory to leasing one of them for use during the summer and the hunting and fishing seasons. They are ideally situated with two good fishing streams available and the best hunting lands in this section right at the door.

It is understood that a number of others in the county are preparing to erect cabins in the woodlands and along the streams as they have discovered that the cabins are easily rented and are a good source of income. Even in the face of the gasoline shortage all camps and cabins along the streams of the county are filled and have been for weeks past.

The fact that the State Department of Commerce is aiding in the giving out of information relative to camps and cabins over the state also aids the project as there is no cost to the service given by the state. The Game Commission also is doing its part to aid in bringing Pennsylvania woods and streams to the attention of the people of the nation.

Aided Library To Win Orchids

Warren's Public Library was not always the splendid institution which it is today with its thousands of volumes and splendid building and competent staff in charge. It had considerable of a struggle and Fannie M. Smith had a large share in bringing the library and its affairs to the public's attention.

And Miss Smith was not only interested in the library but other interests also won her work, interest and warm support. For many years she was a leader in various civic affairs and performed yeoman work in getting various projects under way.

So to Fannie M. Smith may be presented a fine bouquet of orchids for her worthy efforts to make Warren a better place in which to live and to make the cultural side of the city broader in every way.

READING & WRITING BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

John P. Marquand, Pulitzer prize-winning novelist and well known magazine and detective story writer, has joined the editorial board of the Book-of-the-Month Club.

JOHN P. MARQUAND

The addition of Mr. Marquand to the board brings the total up to the original number of five for the first time since the death of Heywood Brown in 1939. Mr. Marquand's appointment follows closely that of Clifton Fadiman in May, replacing the late William Allen White. In addition to Mr. Marquand and Mr. Fadiman, the board includes Dorothy Canfield, Christopher Morley and Henry Seidel Canby.

Mr. Marquand has had two of his novels—"H. M. Pullum, Esq." and, more recently, "So Little Time"—chosen by the Club. Now that he is a member of the Club's editorial board, however, no more of his books may be chosen. It has been a rule of the organization, since its inception in 1926, that no judge may have one of his own books selected for distribution.

In announcing the appointment of the new judge, Harry Scherman, president of the Book-of-the-Month Club, stated: "John Marquand's straight and unorthodox appraisal of people and life has become well known to the public through his novels. It extends to books. The present members of the Board are delighted that henceforth they will have his good sense and judgment supplementing their own views."

"Anna and the King of Siam" by Margaret Landon, tells the story of Anna Leonowens who taught the royal children of the King of Siam and acted as his personal secretary back in the 1860's. The King's limited knowledge of the English language sometimes caused curious mix-ups. Once he found an English newspaper story which referred to him as "a spare man." Enraged, he protested he was not a spare man, that the Kingdom couldn't possibly do without him. Anna vainly protested that the story merely meant he was a thin man. He wouldn't listen to her. He insisted on having an elaborate dinner for all the English in Bangkok. He would show them. At the dinner, Anna whispered a few words to the English consul, who then rose and made a toast, "To his Gracious Majesty, the King of Siam, our host. It would be a sad day for our country if her King ever became a spare man." Some of the guests looked a little bewildered at such a toast, but the King's smile was that of a pleased child.

BANQUET FOR ITALIAN PRISONERS PROTESTED

Harrisburg, July 28—(P)—Commander Frank X. Murray of the Pennsylvania American Legion has appealed to Senator James J. Davis, Senator Joseph E. Guffey, and the American public to halt plans for a banquet at Jeanette, tomorrow night at which he said Italian war prisoners were to be entertained.

In a telegram sent to the state's two United States senators late yesterday Commander Murray declared that the American Legion condemns the action planned at Jeanette and demands that orders be rescinded for this and other entertainment of similar character.

SATURDAY NIGHT PARTIES

Ruth Millett who writes a column "We, the Women," for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror, offers the following interesting sidelight as one reason for small attendance in many Sunday school rooms:

One of the questions considered by delegates to a recent convention of religious leaders was the steady decrease in Sunday school attendance, which has been reported in all denominations in recent years.

The leaders say they want to find out what the trends are that are causing this steady decrease.

The ministers might find at least one reason for poor Sunday school attendance if they checked up to see how the young parents in their congregations, and those not affiliated with a church, spend their Saturday nights.

The average young couple with one or more small children count on Saturday night as their "night out." It is their time to forget for a little while the responsibilities and the routine of their lives and be young. So they call in a high school girl to sit with junior and they get dressed up and go out to recapture fun and romance.

That is, on the whole, all to the good so far as their marriage relationship is concerned. They need that night out.

But unfortunately it comes on Saturday—so that the parents can sleep late on Sunday, which they do. And so junior doesn't get taken or sent to Sunday school. It is just too much trouble.

If religious leaders could somehow persuade young couples to taken another night out instead of Saturday—they might have more luck getting them interested in getting up early enough on Sunday to get children to Sunday school.

But so long as Saturday night is "date night" for the young married sets of the country—there are going to be a lot of vacant chairs in Sunday school rooms.

SECRET WEAPONS

Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels assures his people that Germany has secret weapons, the sight of which made his heart "stand still"—and despite his tendency to falsehood and bombast we shall be unwise to dismiss this lightly. Certainly the citizens of Britain, who are suffering death and destruction from Hitler's new robot bombs, don't discount the possibility of further devilish inventions. Prime Minister Churchill has warned them to be prepared for even greater trials.

However, DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press war analyst, says, "we shan't have to wait long to learn the truth. The Germans will have to get their secret weapons into action fast, if they hope to gain any advantage before the swiftly rising tide of disaster engulfs them on the fighting front—as witness today's good news from both Europe and Normandy."

If Hitler has a new weapon it's a fair bet that, like the flying bomb, they're calculated to smash civilian morale, without having great military value. There's no secret weapon likely to halt the Allied offensive. Hitler's sole hope is that by hook or by crook he may secure a compromise peace.

That being so, the long suffering people of England may be about to undergo further trials of stamina, since they are the ones he can reach readily.

Warren isn't going to be caught napping when Germany capitulates. Members of the Citizens Committee arranging a Victory celebration when the occasion arises, yesterday placed an order for the fireworks that will be used on that memorable event. Every effort is being made to speed the delivery of the order to Warren as soon as possible. In the meantime the financial committee is busy raising funds to cover the expenses of the "blow-out." It's going to be an historic day for the community. Every person may have a part by contributing when solicited.

Another of those popular community young people's recreation programs is scheduled at Beaty this evening and it is a foregone conclusion that another large crowd will be in attendance. Sponsored by the Community P. T. A. Council and arranged to provide entertainment for young people of Warren and vicinity this is a highly commendable project that is receiving the support it deserves from adults and young people as well.

With promise of delightful weather the second "pop" concert to be played this evening on the lawn of the municipal building by the V. F. W. band will be enjoyed by a large crowd of music lovers from Warren and surrounding communities. An article appearing in another part of this issue reveals a diversified program of popular band numbers that assures a delightful evening for all who can attend.

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1924

Elaborate plans have been made for the picnic and outing of the United Commercial Travelers which will be held at Ferncliff Saturday. The affair will be a basket picnic and games and sports of various kinds will afford the entertainment.

Many from Sheffield are paying visits to the new highway which is being laid to make room for Warren from Sheffield. The road will reach Saybrook by the end of the week so fast is concrete being poured.

A census of cars passing the street car barns was taken yesterday and between 9 and 3 o'clock over 700 cars bearing New York state licenses passed.

Forty-five members of the Warren American Legion Post attended the annual picnic and outing of the Jamestown Legion which was held yesterday at Hillside Park, Jamestown.

Work of tearing out the old lights on State street, North Warren, to make room for the new ones has started. Manager Ray Brady, of the electric company says the new system should be in use during August.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—On the basis of the last published report, nearly 50,000 of our 274,000 World War I casualties are men "missing in action."

Officials here are finding that the families of these "missing men" have little conception of what continuing benefits they have under existing laws.

The "missing in action" list is composed of men (or women) who can't be accounted for. In a large percentage of the cases, this doesn't mean that the men are dead. Tom Harmon, the football star turned air ace, was twice reported missing in action for long periods but today is slugging it out with our enemies.

MEN who are captured, but have not yet been reported by the enemy through the international Red Cross are the most frequent cases of missing in action; especially in the Pacific. Others missing in action are those interned in neutral countries (mostly after forced plane landings); those separated from their units who may wander for days even behind enemy lines before they can report; plane crews who may be living with natives in the jungles or hiding in the undergrounds of Europe; and the unlocated dead.

ery attracted much attention as they wended their way through the city today with a police escort at the head. The picnic was held at the Outing Club today.

The Woodhicks Orchestra will furnish the music for the dance at the White Swan Inn at Wrightsville Saturday night. The Hicks have won a fine reputation for their dance music.

A cast of forty will present the Little Chauve Souris at the Womans Club on August 2 and 3. Two

After a man has been missing a year, military officials go over the reports, reclassify them as best they can. But there's no real reason for a family to despair because they receive a telegram from the Army or Navy that their man in service is missing. Thousands of them do turn up.

IN THE interim, it isn't the intention of the government that any family should suffer. A man's pay continues as long as the official status of "missing" is maintained on the service records. Benefits to wives or dependents are continued just as if the man still were with his unit. If family or dependent allowances aren't in effect when the man is reported missing, they may be established by applications to the Secretary of the War or Navy. Such payments also are made by the government for maintaining insurance on the missing man.

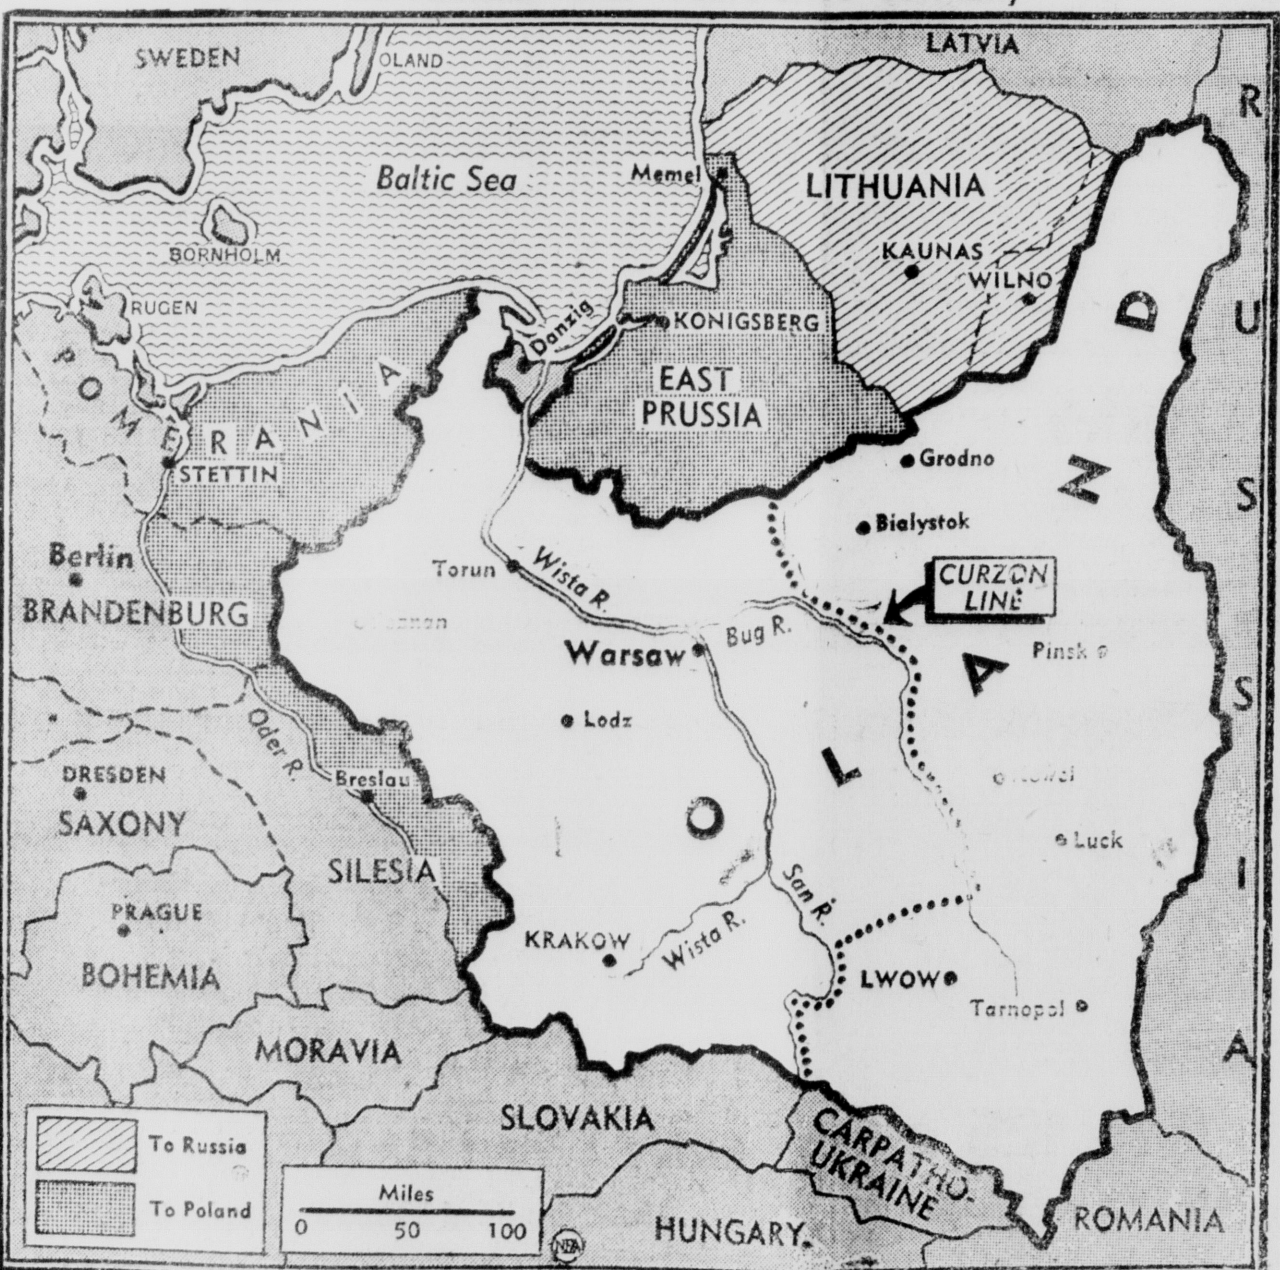

These payments are deducted from the soldier's or sailor's accrued pay, but if it develops later that the man was killed, the deductions have no bearing on the benefits paid to dependents or heirs.

The military departments here urge all dependents or next of kin of men reported missing to take up matters they don't understand with the local Red Cross or the American Legion. If these are unavailable, write your congress-man.

Strong wrists are said to be essential to a first-class barber, so men are said to be more popular and successful than women as hair-dressers.

The leadin pencils is actually graphite.

How Red-Backed Poles Would Slice Germany

Map above shows German areas claimed in manifesto on postwar settlements recently issued by the Soviet-supported National Council of Poland. It demands for Poland all of East Prussia and westward expansion to the Oder river line, taking in most of Pomerania, large areas of Silesia and Brandenburg, and giving the hitherto landlocked Poles wide outlet on the Baltic Sea. Curzon line is eastern boundary set by Allies after World War I. eliminated war. Poles drove Russians back beyond heavy black border line, which remained Polish frontier until German invasion in this war.

DETAIL FOR TODAY

In the Navy and Coastguard, an IRISH PENNANT is anything that has not been stowed away properly. Pin-up pictures, stockings, and undershirts have an uncanny way of becoming IRISH PENNANTS. Any sloppy, loose ends that stick out of the ventilator openings or the sides of the locker door can get their owner into a lot of trouble on inspection day. In most cases, IRISH PENNANTS are collected and the owners' names taken. The unfortunate whose name appears on the inspection list is a marked man. In all future inspections he is inspected more closely, and if the name is taken again, his chances of having no liberty for a week or so are more than excellent.

Rain Saturday Due According To Mr. Culver

"It always rains on July 29 and I have the records to prove it" was the statement of Ralph Culver, Times Square tonorial artist yesterday. "It has rained on July 29 for 63 years", Mr. Culver continued, "it never misses. Sometimes the rain is not heavy but sometimes it is. I have been flooded in this barber shop three times on July 29 by the water which was so heavy it wouldn't run away and I have a leery eye out for Saturday".
Now Ralph isn't the oldest resident in the city but he has been here for some time and he must have handed down to him some old time weather records or must have commenced keeping records while cutting his first set of molars.

State's Waste Paper Quota Not Being Met

Pennsylvania's waste paper collection goal for the year is 600,000 tons, an increase of 64,542 tons monthly for the rest of 1944, according to an announcement made by the Advisory Committee on Salvage.

With complete reports on June collections, which amounted to 54,461 tons, collections for the first six months of the year totaled 224,746 tons, leaving a deficit of 75,254 tons for the first half of the year. If the state is to achieve its goal, it will be necessary to make up the deficit during the next six months.

That means that the quota for the July to December period is 375,254 tons, or 62,542 tons per month. This is a quota of 12 1/2 pounds per capita per month for every county in the state.

Colley S. Baker, executive secretary, stated that the state is not supplying enough waste paper for war production purposes. So important is the need for paper that OPA increased the ceiling prices from $2 to $5 per ton on the basic grades of waste paper recently.

Brokenstraw Garden Club Holds Delightful Dinner-Meet

Youngsville, July 27—Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Pentecost entertained the Brokenstraw Valley Garden Club Tuesday evening at their summer home on East Main street. Small tables were arranged on the lawn and a very fine thirteen dinner enjoyed. Guests were then invited into the house for the evening's meeting with Mrs. C. C. Johnson, the president, presiding. Each person present was given the scrambled name of a vegetable and at the roll call named this vegetable and told how they liked their vegetable prepared.

It was decided the position of secretary of the Garden Club needed additional help and Mrs. H. H. Husted was elected to assist Mrs. Gladys Swanson in this office. A special collection for the Youngsville Service Club, which now brings cheer to a large group of local service men in U.S.A. and abroad, received a generous response. Approval was given by the Garden Club to the action of the Youngsville Council in requesting that all weeds along the curbs of the Borough be cut down. The Garden Club urges owners of property to see that it is done at once.

It was decided to have the Brokenstraw Valley Garden Club have some type of exhibit at the Fair. As a committee for this the president appointed Mrs. C. A. Solberg, Mrs. Edith Husted, Mrs. Black, Mrs. Mertie Kay, Mrs. Lena Hendrickson and Mrs. James Hamilton. Following the business session Mr. S. N. Pentecost gave an interesting and helpful talk with the general theme "Gardening". He considered the topic from the viewpoint of first preparing the soil; second planting; third the care of the growing crop and fourth the harvest.

The August meeting, to be held Tuesday the 15th, will be a thirteen dinner at the home of Mrs. C. A. Solberg. Green corn is promised by the hostess. Roll call will be the naming of "Annals". A talk is to be given on the "Arrangement of Flowers for a Flower Show".

RUSSELL

Russell, July 27—The Ladies Aid Circle meeting was held at the church with Mrs. Edwin Branstrom presiding. It was decided to have a rummage sale this fall. The August meeting will be a picnic dinner with the meeting in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Martin Kelley.

The Firemen's Auxiliary and their husbands were entertained at the home of Mrs. Grace Swanson with twenty present. Various games were enjoyed with prizes awarded Mr. De Water, Mrs. H. C. Schlaack, Mrs. C. M. Lewis, Mrs. B. F. Baxter and Mrs. Arthur Van Ord. The hostess assisted by Mrs. Marvin Kelley served refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. M. Lewis.

Private Harold Duell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Duell is home for a 20 day furlough from Camp Haan, Calif.

Pfc Walter Branstrom of Harvard, Neb., and 2nd Lieut. Robert Branstrom and his wife of Hays, Kans., are spending their furloughs at the home of their parents Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Branstrom.

Mrs. I. G. Darling who has been a patient at the Jamestown hospital arrived home Wednesday.

Mrs. Lawrence Briggs arrived home from the Warren hospital Tuesday.

Sunday the following spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Duell. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Duell of Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. Frick of Tiona, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson of Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Lipton Sadler and family of Falconer spent Sunday with relatives here.

The Wiltzie Ladies Aid Society meeting was held at the Wiltzie

School building with Mrs. Kenneth Way in charge. At noon a picnic dinner was enjoyed. The afternoon was spent quilting. The August meeting will be held at the school building.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hedges are spending the week at Buffalo and Akron.

Miss Blanche Akeley who is in training at the Mt. Sinai hospital at Cleveland has returned after a two weeks vacation with her mother Mrs. Bertha Akeley.

Mrs. Ruth Dinsmore has returned home after spending several weeks at Georgia with her husband.

Miss Mildred Wiltzie and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schultz of North Tonawanda were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Wiltzie.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Actors are sensitive people and they can stand just so much. So Ralph Bellamy went away from Hollywood and he's back now, bigger and better of course.

What got the Bellamy goat, after 13 years in Hollywood, was a movie script he was reading. One of the characters in it was described as "a dull fellow from the Middle West—a Ralph Bellamy type."

So Bellamy, doubtless muttering, reached for the telephone and made reservations for New York. This was a year or more ago, when all you had to do to ride a train was buy a ticket. And then he was off to Broadway, an actor in search of a job.

"Hollywood and I," he said then, "have reached an impasse. Either they have me losing the girl in the last reel, or I'm inventing something to keep monsters under control, or I'm from the Middle West—and an oaf besides."

The job he found was in "Tomorrow the World," the play about the Nazi-indoctrinated brat who comes to an American home. In it, every night, he had to do battle with Skippy Homeier, the brat. "I enjoyed it," he said. "I let Skippy become to me a symbol of all the movie casting directors who always saw Bellamy just as the other guy from Indiana."

Hunt Stromberg saw the play, bought Bellamy's contract so he could come to Hollywood for his

"Guest in the House," and so far no producer has approached him with a script containing dull fellows of the Ralph Bellamy type. That, to Ralph, seems even sweeter than his personal business coup in the deal; he had "bought into" the play, and when Stromberg paid for his release, Bellamy shared in the proceeds.

ON ANOTHER stage "Tomorrow the World" is being filmed by Lester Cowan, with Fredric March in the Bellamy role and Betty Field opposite. Joan Carroll is the little girl, but the newcomer to films—the one everyone wants to see—is the redoubtable Skippy Homeier with whom Bellamy so enjoyed tangle.

After all the praise he garnered for his realistic brattiness, Skippy turns out to be, somewhat disappointingly, a nice, polite kid of 13, three inches taller than when he first startled Broadway critics with his portrayal of juvenile nastiness. This was his first stage role, although he had done some radio, and perhaps one result of his success in such a mean character has been to make him lean over backwards to show he's not that "brat." You'd take him off-stage for a cheerful Boy Scout, well-mannered, respectful, regular.

George Vincent Homeier—the nickname Skippy came from the Jackie Cooper film of that title which his mother liked—is set for further films, at M-G-M, after his stint for Cowan.

SPAR NEVA DOVE IN COLLIER'S ARTICLE

What happens when the U. S. Coast Guard teaches its SPARS the fine art of swimming is the content of an interesting article appearing in the current issue of Collier's under the byline of Ruth Carson. Among the bathing beauty-student swimmers depicted in the two-page spread is Spar Neva Dove of Warren, shown alone in two pictures and as a member of a group in another. Their instructor, George Fissler, says "it's a cinch to learn to swim. All you have to do is trust your instructor and do what he tells you. Out of 5,000 I've had only six failures. Women are easier to teach than men. They work harder."

Spar Dove, already seaman first class, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Dove, West street, and is not one of those who fear the water. She learned to swim at an early age in the Conewago Creek, practically in her own back yard, and when the time came passed her senior life saving tests without having to take intervening instruction and tests.

Pvt. William Rhoades of Shepard Field, Texas is home on ten-day furlough with his wife in Clarendon before reporting to a new station in California.

Pvt. Merle G. Fox has returned to Columbia, S. C. after a 14-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Fox, 7 Monroe street.

WOUNDED IN ACTION

Two from this section are included among 10 Pennsylvanians wounded in action and made public today in announcement by the War Department. They are: Sgt. Raymond L. Gates, son of Mrs. Ethel Gates, Torpedo RD 1, and Pvt. Edward G. Sherman, son of Carl Sherman, Bear Lake RD 1.

SAFE IN TUNISIA

Mrs. Richard Evans, Cayuga avenue, has received a letter from her son, Lt. Richard Evans, executive officer on a U. S. destroyer, that he safely traversed the Mediterranean and is now in Bizerte, Tunisia. They were attacked by German planes en route, he writes, but suffered no casualties.

Sgt. Albert Foy has been transferred from Long Island to a new base in Arkansas, according to word received by his wife, who returned yesterday to her home in Patterson, N. J., after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McFarland, 205 Frank street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Weaver, N. Irvine street, have received word from their son, Pvt. Donald Weaver, that he has arrived safely in England.

William Stewart, seaman second class, is spending an eight-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stewart, Hemlock street.

NURSING OFFICER GETS TRANSFERRED

It is learned today from Richmond, Va., that Lt. Eleanor W. Shea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Shea, of Clarendon, has been transferred from the hospital at Port George G. Meade, Md., to duty with the Army Nurse Corps at McGuire General Hospital in Richmond. Lt. Shea received her commission in June of this year. She attended St. Joseph's parochial school and Warren High School before going away to Slippery Rock State Teachers College. Her professional training was taken at St. Vincent's Hospital in Erie. McGuire General is the army's huge, new 1,784-bed hospital located near Richmond and designated by the War Department as an evacuation center for overseas sick and wounded returning through the Hampton Roads port of debarkation.

FLIES TO ECUADOR

Donald E. Wolfe has arrived back at Camp Hood, Texas, after a 14-day furlough with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Gail Wolfe, 5 Hill street, and other relatives and friends. He is an instructor in the auto department of the tank destroyer school and one of his recent experiences was a trip by plane to Ecuador to repair tanks. Upon his return he was awarded the American Medal.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roberts 17 West Wayne street received word Wednesday that their son Pvt. Dean A. Roberts has arrived safely in England. Pvt. Roberts was formerly located at Camp Claiborne, and more recently at Camp Reynolds near Greenville.

Mrs. Robert Shine, 115 1/2 Parker street, has received word that her husband, who recently completed his boot training at Bainbridge, Md., has arrived at Virginia Beach, Va., to attend Communications school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shine, Cobham Park road.

Paul F. Morris, MoMM 3/c, has returned to his ship after a leave of eight days spent at home with his mother, Mrs. Gertrude P. Lofgren, Grand Valley. His brothers and sisters gave a dinner in his honor last Wednesday at Mrs. Lofgren's home.

Pvt. Gerald H. Loomis, who has been transferred from Camp Blanding, Fla., to Fort Meade, Md., is spending some time enroute with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Loomis, Sugar Grove.

Pvt. Robert E. Meleen has arrived from Camp Chaffee, Ark., to spend a 14-day furlough with his wife and parents.

PACIFIC PROMOTION

Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Smith, of Bear Lake, have received word that their son, Manfred N. Smith (better known as Gerry) has been advanced to third class signalman at his U. S. Navy post in the South Pacific. He received his boot training at Great Lakes, Ill., after entering naval service July 6, 1943, and was assigned to duty in October of last year. Prior to that he attended Lottville High School and was employed on the farm of R. D. Atkins.

Ralph H. Wagner, pharmacist's mate third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wagner, 516 Fourth avenue, arrived home late Wednesday for a short leave. He will return next Monday to his station at Great Lakes, Ill.

Cpl. T/S Robert F. Curtin and wife, of Camp McCain, Miss., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Curtin, Sheffield RD 2, and Mrs. Emma Carlson, Jamestown, N. Y. Bob will return to his duties at camp this weekend but Mrs. Curtin plans to stay until the latter part of August before returning to Mississippi.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jackson, 212 Canton street, have received word that their son, Pvt. George H. Jackson, has arrived safely in England.

"WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

Would Abolition of the Closed Shop Be a Step Toward Industrial Peace?

As debated by

Maurice R. Franks
National Business Agent,
Railroad Yardmasters of North America, Inc.—Editor, Railroad Workers Journal

Dr. Broadus Mitchell
Economist, and Research Director of the
International Ladies Garment Workers Union

MR. FRANKS OPENS: The abolition of the closed shop would not only be a step toward industrial peace, it would be practically a complete flight up the stairway to industrial Utopia. We fight to abolish political dictatorship. We must assume the abolition of an economic dictatorship would definitely lead to a more harmonious and productive system of industrialism. Our fighting men will return to their homeland expecting to engage in gainful employment operated under a basis of Americanism void of dictatorship. Imagine their disillusionment to find a condition of dictatorship in industry—the closed shop by which they must pay a toll for the right to work—whether or not they believe or understand the principles of unionism. The closed shop is inconsistent to everything consistent with good Americanism. It infringes upon the intent of 3 of the 4 freedoms—(1) freedom of speech—if the worker is forced to accept this system without expressing willingness to do so, (2) freedom from want—if a worker through not accepting the closed shop is prevented from earning a living, (3) freedom from fear—if the worker is in constant fear of conditions imposed through the closed shop which may be the means of his losing his membership in the union and his right to earn a living.

DR. MITCHELL CHALLENGES: Unions have learned that if union membership in a shop is allowed to be diluted by employment of non-union workers, the hold of the union, and, therefore, the maintenance of union standards is progressively weaker. Why should workers unwilling to make sacrifices to enjoy improved union conditions insist on benefiting by these conditions, so long as requirements for membership in the union are reasonable? The more unions are recognized in law and fact as useful instruments in society, the less will be the insistence of certain unions on unjustifiable practices limiting the number of people entering and working in any trade. Thus, the closed shop with the closed union ceased to be important in Great Britain, with its fuller acceptance of unionism, before the same was true here.

MR. FRANKS REPLIES: Finally, it is not my intention to try to sell several phases of unionism in this debate as my opponent seems to be inclined to do. Unionism, as originally laid down, is virtuous enough to be meritoriously sold to any worker. I say the closed shop or union shop is the same pill with a different coating. I believe this system to be dictatorial and not needed in a democracy. Therefore, no matter how much debate is made on this question, the final decision can only be—the closed shop, the union shop or the open shop are all systems of force and should be outlawed.

DR. MITCHELL REPLIES: What is wanted is the union shop. Most unions in America are in no position to close their doors. At present, hardly more than one-fourth of American workers are organized. In many instances, unions accept a preferential union shop, which is to say, union men are to be hired as long as available and non-union workers are to be discharged before union workers. Unfair monopolistic practices often recoil against unions themselves, not least by robbing union officials and members of constant activity in organizing the unorganized. The closed shop, interpreted to mean the effective union shop, is no longer a question for debate in this country.

Church Notes

Special events listed in Bethany Lutheran parish at Sheffield in the coming week include: Tuesday, 6:30 p. m., Loyalty Bible Class picnic supper at Rock Spring Park, with all urged to attend; Wednesday, 2:30 p. m., Woman's Missionary Society entertained by Mrs. Eva Saxton and Mrs. C. B. Benson; Friday, 8 p. m., Luther League.

Pastor Wallace Johnson announces there will be special services and confirmations reunion at Berea Lutheran church at Freehold Sunday. The morning service at 11 will be conducted by the pastor, followed by a basket lunch and an afternoon service beginning at 2:15, with Rev. Nore Gustafson of Warren, as speaker; tureen supper; evening service at 7:30, with Rev. Edward Rein, of North East as the speaker.

Rev. Johnson also announces there will be no morning service at Chancellers Valley Lutheran church Sunday morning but that Sunday school and Bible classes will meet at 10 a. m.

Due to the annual camp meeting at Pleasantville July 27 to August 6, there will be no Sunday services in the Free Methodist church on Conewango avenue until August 13.

Rev. Byron Berry, pastor of Bear Lake United Brethren church, announces that John Oleka, ministerial student at Westerville, O., and young people's worker at the Findlay Lake camp, will be guest speaker for both the morning and evening service in Bear Lake. All interested, and particularly young people of the community, are invited to hear his message.

The Rev. Victor Peterson, pastor of Calvary Evangelical church in Cleveland, O., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson, 14 Walnut street, this city, will be guest speaker at 11 a. m. Sunday in First Evangelical church. His topic will be "Uses of Trouble".

Rev. J. H. Cruickshank, minister of North Warren Presbyterian church, will be guest preacher at First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, taking for his topic "The Accent of the Galleian". Jackson Barrell will play the Prelude in D Major by Clara Schumann and G. Walter Irwin will sing "Gloria" by Buzza-Peccia.

Members of Moriah Lutheran parish in Ludlow are reminded of these special events listed in the coming week: Tuesday, 8 p. m., District Sunday school teachers meeting in Warren; Wednesday, 8 p. m., Luther League goes to Wilcox for a joint meeting; Friday, 2:30 p. m., Ladies' Aid.

A PRAYER

Dear Lord
Lest I continue
My Complacent way:
Help me to remember
Somewhere out there
A man died for me today.
As long as there be war:
I then must
Ask and answer
Am I worth dying for.
From the Parish Ambler, N. J. Bulletin.

They Don't All Fight to the End

Some Japs may have fought with fanatical fury to the bitter end, but not the pair seen in the photo above. Upon the approach of the group of Marines in background, they popped up out of their Saipan Island foxholes, arms aloft in surrender. Marines, being wise to Nip tricks, kept discreet distance until sure surrender's on the up-and-up.

First Concert By High School Band and Next Wednesday Night

The second of a series of four high school band concerts sponsored by the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce will take place Wednesday evening, Aug. 2nd, in the lawn in front of the municipal building at the corner of Cory and Third avenue. Under the direction of Harry W. Hersh, the High School Band prepared an entertaining concert lasting about one hour which starts at 7:15 p. m. Through the cooperation of the Warren School Board, the High School Band was kept intact this summer and have been holding regular rehearsals in preparation for the concerts. The retail merchants of Warren are sponsoring the concerts in an effort to provide the community with entertainment in Warren during this summer when travel is so restricted.

An excellent program has been prepared for next Wednesday's concert and those desiring this pleasure should be at the City Building not later than 7:15 to enjoy the full effect of the evening's entertainment. Refreshments will be available during the evening from a special young people's committee.

Post-War Building Will Aid Neighboring Sheffield Village

In recent announcements relating to post war projects in this community it has been generally recognized that local plants will undergo expansion programs. Early all Warren plants have programs that will call for some construction work and enlargement of number of employees. The outlook is especially good, according to informed sources.

The Sheffield plant is working almost at capacity at the present time and the manpower shortage has been solved to an extent by the employment of a number of women and girls. They are said to be meeting all demands made upon them in an excellent manner.

TIMES TOPICS

GAME AT STATE

This evening, at 6:15 o'clock at the State Hospital diamond the National Forge and Ordnance team will meet a fast club from Falconer, N. Y.

TO ADDRESS ROTARY

Dr. Gail E. Ridelberger, local surgeon, will be guest speaker for the luncheon-meeting of Rotary Club to be held Monday at the YWCA activities building. His topic will be "A Brief Analysis of the Problem of Socialized Medicine."

AT CONVENTION

J. H. Goldstein, county prosecutor, is in Hershey today for the opening of the 12th annual convention of the State District Attorney's Association. Mrs. Goldstein accompanied him and will attend the banquet Saturday evening, when new officers will be installed. They are expected to return home on Sunday.

TO BECOME WAREHOUSE

It is understood that arrangements are being made for the use of the old Sheffield mill as a warehouse by the United States government. The mill has not been used in many months and it would be useful as a warehouse. Just what it is planned to store is not known but whatever goes into the place will have to be hauled by truck as the railroad switch into the mill has been taken up. One of the furniture factories at Youngsville is being used as warehouse for the storing of canned goods.

ARRESTS PLANNED

Firemen and police have received many complaints of boys playing in and about the old chair factory on Laurel street recently purchased by the Warren Lamp Company. The boys enter the building and play through them, even getting up on the roof. They have done heavy damage to the structure, breaking windows, etc., and the owners have now appealed to the police and firemen to make arrests and prosecutions will follow. They are determined that the practice must be broken.

LOOKING TO FUTURE

"Education for a World Tomorrow" was the theme of the 22nd annual superintendents and principals' conference which closed three-day sessions Thursday at State College, H. L. Blair, county superintendent, and W. J. Summerville, assistant, representing Warren county. Representatives attended a series of special meetings in which future school programs and school taxation were discussed and heard talks on veteran rehabilitation, future educational implements, trends in Pennsylvania education and the future of elementary and secondary education.

Fracture of Neck Suffered In Auto Crash

Latest reports received by Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Grady, Hazel street, are that their son, Pvt. James Raymond Grady, of the U. S. Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune, N. C., is making a slow recovery in the camp hospital.

He has been a patient here since July 6, when he was injured in an automobile accident at the camp. More seriously hurt than was first learned, the young marine suffered a neck fracture and will be hospitalized for some months to come.

Those wishing to write to him may do so at this address: Pvt. James R. Grady, USMC, 881991, U. S. Naval Hospital, Room 43, Ward 13, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The Grady's 16-month-old son, Ray Arthur, has also been a patient in the same naval hospital, seriously ill with a mastoid, but has recovered sufficiently to be cared for by his mother at their home in Kingston, N. C.

Cleaning Out Old Wells Is Urged By Experiment Station

Franklin, July 27—Bruce Grant of the Experiment Station of the United States Bureau of Mines at Franklin, Pa., stated in an informal discussion before the operators of the Central Pennsylvania that "cleaning-out of oil wells pays; it increases production and keeps old wells from abandonment."

This statement was made at a technical meeting sponsored by the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association. More than 100 oil men were present.

Mr. Grant pointed out that the Franklin staff of the Bureau had been engaged for sometime in making a study of well clean-out methods in southwest Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia. The study covered detailed information on 350 well clean-out jobs and the data secured evidenced the advantage of cleaning out oil wells. He discussed the various methods by which this was accomplished, such as shooting, acid treatment, solvents, steaming and electrically heating.

Obituary

Unless otherwise stated, visiting hours at Warren's funeral homes are from 10 a. m. to 12; 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

MRS. ANNA JOHNSON

Funeral services for Miss Anna Johnson who passed away in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Thursday morning, will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the Chapel at the Home for the Aged in that city. The Rev. Carl Jacobson will officiate.

Miss Johnson was born in Unarvad Smaland, Sweden on May 6, 1869. She came to this country in 1900 and resided in Warren and Scandia until ten years ago when she went to Brooklyn. Her nearest relatives are several nieces and nephews: Albert E. Johnson and Alice J. Swanson of Scandia, with whom she resided for several years and others in some western states. She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church in Warren.

DELL E. THURSTON

Sheffield, July 28—Burial services were held Thursday afternoon in the Sheffield cemetery for Dell E. Thurston, who died Monday at his home in Carnegie, Pa. The Reverend Ivan E. Russell officiated.

Mr. Thurston, who served for 40 years with the Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railroad, retired 10 years ago. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Division 416, Carnegie.

Mr. Thurston spent many years in Sheffield, and was employed by the T. V. Railroad.

Those present included his wife Mrs. Elizabeth Sprandle Thurston, daughters, Mrs. Mary A. Hackins, Mrs. Mildred Webb, Carnegie, and Mrs. Doris Thurston, Pepperville, Beverly Hills, California; Mrs. Mary Sprandle, Mrs. Laura Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Orin Sprandle, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. William Thurston, McKees Rocks, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffman, Olean, N. Y.; Mrs. Grace Burdick, Rochester, N. Y.; Adam Reip, Mrs. Rilla Porterfield, Warren, Pa.; Reuben Webb, Carnegie.

Personal Paragraphs

Among out of town relatives and friends here to attend the funeral of D. R. Perry, 1211 Sechrist street were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walters, Tonesta; Mrs. Plumer DeWolf, Titusville; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Haslett and daughter, of Richmond, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Thompson, of Russell, have had word from their daughter, Mrs. E. B. Ott, that she and her daughter, Stephanie, will arrive about August 1 to spend several weeks with family and friends. Mrs. Ott, the former Miss Cecelia Thompson, will come from Ocean City, N. J., where she has been singing in the First Methodist church as guest soloist and member of a quartet from Philadelphia.

Miss Ann Grinnell, employed as information clerk in Union Station in Washington, D. C., will return to her duties Monday after a vacation spent with relatives and friends.

James Edward Trumbull, 1117 Spring street, one year old, was brought to Warren General Hospital Thursday for treatment of a laceration of his lower left arm, received when he fell on a piece of glass in the back yard.

Jack Archer, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Archer, 25 Orchard street, had x-rays taken at Warren General Hospital Thursday to determine extent of an injury to his right lower arm, received when he fell from a trap-eze on Wednesday. A fracture was located and a splint applied.

Shirley Ann Olson, 216 Parker street, is in Bradford to visit her cousin, Sandra Lee Redmond.

Mrs. J. R. Krupey, Fourth avenue, will go to Hershey tomorrow morning to bring home her husband, Pvt. Krupey, who has been attending Pennsylvania State Police School there for the past three months. They expect to return the first of the week.

Harvey Lawrence, of Los Angeles, Calif., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence, Warren RD 2, and other relatives.

End of War Is Doped Out By Some Mathematical Shark

During the past few days a local man has been giving his friends some typewritten sheets which show that the World War will end at 2 o'clock on September 7, according to a dope sheet figured out by some unknown mathematical shark. He doesn't know who did the job, but is giving his friends the opportunity to check up.

Here's the mathematical basis for his predictions:

	Churchill	Hitler	Roosevelt	Il Duce	Stalin	Tojo
Year born	1874	1889	1882	1883	1879	1885
Age	70	55	62	61	65	59
Took office	1940	1933	1933	1922	1922	1941
Years in office ..	4	11	11	22	22	3
	3888	3888	3888	3888	3888	3888

Says the calculator: The war will end in one-half of 3888, which is 1944, and one-half of 1944, which in months and days and hours is 9, 7, 2 or September 7 at 2 o'clock.

The first letter in the names of the six leaders spell that of the Supreme Leader, it was pointed out.

Loot Stolen In Cottages Is Identified

Cottage owners whose camps were looted by Samuel Thomas and Ralph Wetmore, young men under arrest for the robbery of 20 places, are now being given opportunity to view the loot taken by the men and to identify their possessions.

The task is a heavy one due to the large amount of stuff which was taken from the camps by the thieves. There were a number of radios, several car radios, large quantities of dishes and cooking utensils, several guns and much fishing tackle. In addition clothing was taken in several of the camps and both men's and women's garments were stolen. Much of the loot has been recovered and it is expected that within a few days the most of the things taken will be in the hands of the officers.

Thomas has made a clean breast of the affair and has pointed out all of the places which he had entered and has told of the disposition of much of the stuff which was disposed of by the two youths. Wetmore has also "come clean" on his part in the affair and there will be no trouble in bringing him back to Warren as he has signed extradition papers.

Sheriff Linder and the state police are continuing the probing of the case in order that all angles may be cleaned up when the two men are presented to the court for sentence following their plea of guilty to the charges against them.

At various times there have been sporadic outbreaks of cottage robberies in this section but there has never been such a widespread looting of summer homes and camps as that which has just been cleaned up by the arrest of the two men. They had thoroughly covered the county and cottages dotted over the whole county had been entered.

Personal Paragraphs

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bartsch, of Philadelphia, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Henry Bartsch, Warren RD 2, and other relatives and friends in town. Also at home is Merritt Bartsch, home on furlough from Camp Blanding, Fla., and reporting Tuesday to Fort Meade, Md.

Mrs. J. H. Beachler, of St. Petersburg, Fla., has arrived in the city to spend some time the guest of her brother E. T. Beck and wife at their summer home on the Tidoute road.

Mrs. Edward Anne and family, of Detroit, Mich., here to vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Blomquist, at North Warren, will spend about three weeks more with family and friends.

Charles Waterbrandt will again be the speaker at the Sunday morning service in Calvary Baptist church and, at 7:45 p. m. Friday, members will have the privilege of hearing Rev. Bertil Friberg, of Newark, N. J.

Miss Mary Church, general secretary of the local YWCA, is leaving for Titusville to spend her vacation with her family.

DOES YOUR CHURCH, LODGE, OR SOCIETY

WANT TO RAISE MONEY?

How many times have you had to say, "We'd like to do that but our organization just hasn't got the ready cash." Here's one of the easiest ways of raising money—and at the same time of patriotically serving your country—save waste paper!

Waste paper can add to your income. You won't have to increase dues or fees. Just sell enough waste paper to your own local dealers at standard market prices.

At the same time you'll be helping to win the war. Remember this year we need 2,000,000 extra tons of waste paper.

Paper makes ammunition cases, helmet linings, flares, supply parachutes, and blood plasma containers. Our boys in uniform need the waste paper which you can collect for them.

Have every member of your organization bring a bundle of waste paper to your next meeting : : : Save waste paper, sell it, and help to shorten the war.

Warren to Have Cardinal Two-Day Try-Out Camp Soon

St. Louis Cardinals Will Conduct Baseball School At State Hospital Next Month

Word has been received at the Y. M. C. A. from C. S. "Pop" Kelchner that a two-day try-out camp for the St. Louis Cardinals will be held sometime in August at the State Hospital field.

"Red" Swanson, manager of the Struthers-Wells baseball team and Lloyd Shirk, program secretary of the Y. M. C. A., have been corresponding with "Pop" Kelchner, scout for the St. Louis Cardinals, for the past month and a half in regard to securing this opportunity for the baseball youth of Warren and vicinity to play under the eye of a big league scout.

The State Hospital authorities are giving the project their full cooperation and have given permission to use the State Hospital field for the try-out camp.

This field is ideally suited for the purpose and will afford to baseball aspirants an excellent opportunity to display their talent to best advantage.

The try-out camp will probably be held on a Friday and Saturday sometime around the middle of August. Similar camps are being held in Clearfield and Washington and it is thought that the Warren camp will be included in the same swing around the western part of the state. The camps are usually conducted from 11 A. M. to 4 P. M.

"Pop" Kelchner is well-known in big league circles as he has been a scout for the St. Louis Cardinals for the past twenty-some years. He has many friends to his credit, chief among them being Charley Gelbert of world series fame.

Outstanding Colored Team Will Play Forge At Wilder Field Sunday Afternoon At 3

The first colored team to visit this vicinity during the current baseball season will be seen at Wilder Field Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Monessen Grays come here to tackle the National Forge nine.

As previously reported, the Monessen team has an outstanding record, being more than a run-of-the-mill colored outfit. The best comparison between the Grays and the Forge can be drawn from the fact that the colored boys have scored a victory over the Pittsburgh Oaks, leader in the Greater Pittsburgh League in which Dormont is one of the top contenders. Dormont battled the Forge for 13 innings last Sunday before being defeated, 2-1.

As a result of the great amount of talk concerning this week-end game, management of the Forge team is planning to handle one of the largest crowds of the season.

With Freddy Gagliardi slated to do mound chores for the Forge, the local team will present its regular lineup against the colored foes. This will include Harry Rosequist behind the plate, Mike Solock at first, Andy Natale at second, Dick Giegerich at third, Emmy Morrison at shortstop, Forman in left field, Taylor in center and Warren in right.

The starting lineup for the Monessen Grays, as announced by the team's manager this week, will include Johnson pitching, Fuller catching, Clinton at first, McKeever at second, Terry at third, Peterson at shortstop, Forman in left field, Taylor in center and Warren in right.

While the Forge ball players are concentrating on their game with the Monessen club at the present time, they are also looking forward to a pair of important contests over the following week-end.

The Bell Aircraft Company, of Buffalo, one of the leading outfits in western New York, will provide the attraction at that time. The club will meet the Forge first on Saturday, August 5, when the Irvine plant holds its employees' picnic at Wilder Field. The following day, Sunday, August 6, the Bell team will again tackle the Forge in a public attraction.

Manager Nick Creola is dicker-ing for some more outstanding games and several strong teams will be seen here before the curtain is rung down on the current campaign.

Tough Match Expected At CVCC Sunday

A large crowd is expected to trail the two finalists in the Coneywango Valley Country Club championship play when they tee off Sunday morning at 10:00 a. m.

Tim Creal, three-time champion, and Bill Rice, usually a top contender for honors, will battle through 36 holes, if necessary, to decide this year's titleholder and indications are that it may go the full route.

Creal, one of the longest hitters and the most consistent all-around golfer at the club, is odds-on favorite to repeat for his fourth straight season, but if Rice's putter clicks, it will make up some of the difference in lengthy iron and wood shots.

The latter's short game is considered on a par with the best this year and this point may also mean plenty when the chips are down.

Indications are that Creal this year has drawn one of his toughest assignments in his years of coping the local links toga and betting still heavily favors his corner, but many have given Rice pretty good odds to score an upset particularly if he can score a good first round on the opening eighteen and hold his opponent within reach.

PONY LEAGUE

Buffalo, N. Y., July 28—(P)—The Lockport Cubs increased by 12 points last night their already-substantial 61-point lead over the PONY league field as they took both ends of a doubleheader from Erie, 3-2, 7-1.

An error in the first inning lost the opener for Erie. The Sailors had bunched three hits for a pair of runs, only to lose their lead when the Cubs followed suit. With two out, Don Brennan muffed Greg Mulleavy's grounder and Zazkie Freeman scored from third with the winning run.

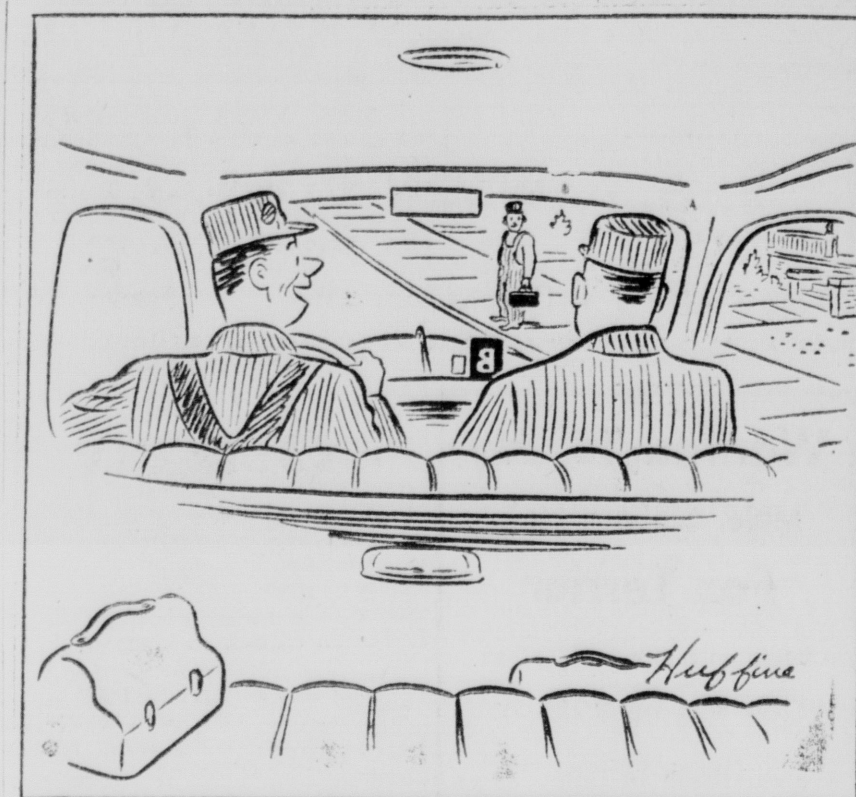

Jamestown and Batavia split another doubleheader. The Clippers won the seven-inning first game, 4-2, but were nosed out by Jamestown 2-1 in the 11th inning of the nightcap.

The Hornell Pirates got 14 hits off Bradford pitcher Crimian to defeat the Blue Wings 6-4, and Wellsville eked out a 5-4 victory over Olean in a game that went to 12 innings.

Is it ever wise to BORROW?

NO one should borrow unnecessarily, but there are times when a loan is the best solution to a money problem. Thousands of letters in our files tell of the many worth-while things made possible by a Personal loan. If you need extra cash, perhaps a Personal loan would be to your advantage too.

Personal makes loans promptly, and privately, without involving outsiders. Sensible monthly payments are arranged and the cost is surprisingly low. For example: $30 for 2 weeks costs less than 53c. Getting a loan at Personal is as simple as opening a charge account. Come in, phone or write us today.

Great Aerial Battles Rage Over Europe

(From Page One) Several thousand persons, voting approval of the government's foreign policy with shouts of "Argentinians yes, Yankees no," participated last night in an orderly demonstration during which a noise bomb exploded in front of the building occupied by the newspaper La Nacion.

The crowd assembled in front of the U. S. embassy where, as a precaution, women employees had been sent home early. The explosion, which injured no one but shattered a shop window, occurred as the main demonstration was moving toward the foreign ministry, several blocks away.

County Lagging in Sale of Fifth War Loan "E" Bonds

Figures supplied by the Warren County War Finance Committee show a slight improvement in the standing of this county for the sale of "E" bonds in the Fifth War Loan. The Federal Reserve reports indicate that Warren county has reached 51% of its quota for "E" bonds, but still lags with only 48% of the quota of sales to individuals. The War Bond Committee has been surprised at this comparison with sales in the four previous War Loans, when Warren county was among the leaders in the Fort Pitt area and the entire State of Pennsylvania. It is known that some further subscriptions through those on the pay roll deduction plan will augment the present total and, even though the goal of 100% may not be reached, it is hoped that 75% or more may be attained.

ARGENTINA'S ACTION IS GIVEN APPROVAL Buenos Aires, July 28—(P)—Several thousand persons, voting approval of the government's foreign policy with shouts of "Argentinians yes, Yankees no," participated last night in an orderly demonstration during which a noise bomb exploded in front of the building occupied by the newspaper La Nacion.

The crowd assembled in front of the U. S. embassy where, as a precaution, women employees had been sent home early. The explosion, which injured no one but shattered a shop window, occurred as the main demonstration was moving toward the foreign ministry, several blocks away.

HERO HONORED Tunnelton, July 28—(P)—A hero of the first daylight Flying Fortress raid over Berlin, Tech. Sgt. Steve Koback was being honored today by his fellow townspeople and employees at Federal Laboratories' Plant No. 3 where he once worked. The informal celebration, honoring Koback and 91 other former employees now in the service, is in conjunction with an inspection tour of the plant by four officers from the Army's Chemical Warfare Service unit at Pittsburgh.

Plant roots can be kept cool and moist by spreading loose straw on the garden after watering.

Over 50,000 Nazis Face Entrapment In Pocket on Seacoast

With giant strides Bradley's six steaming spearheads appeared to have precipitated a broad German withdrawal.

One spearhead stabbed to Notre Dame De Cenilly on its left, taking that town 11 miles southwest of St. Lo and about the same distance from the jumpoff point in the offensive.

Here the Americans were nine miles southeast of Coutances, while other columns of the same movement spread along an eight-mile front were pointed at the city itself. The nearest was within gunfire of the only bridge affording escape at Coutances for the Germans.

Others pushed to Ledeshayes six miles south of Marigny and to the Soules woods, 3½ miles south of Canisy.

Two other spearheads closed in from the north from the north from captured Lessay and Periers. Highballing down the highway from Normandy toward Brittany, one column had reached a point within 1½ miles of Tassy-Sur-Vire, 10 miles south of St. Lo.

Another column was fanning out to the west. These twin spear

Air Express Shows Growth In Past Year

Agent Gilmore, of the local express office during the present month has handled 60 air express shipments out of the local office and he drew attention to the fact that for the same month last year only 16 shipments went forward. This is a wonderful showing and brings a realization of the fact that the use of the air as a means of transport is becoming more and more recognized.

On Wednesday the planes on both south bound flights were forced to land here to pick up shipments. In all there were six shipments being forwarded by express with a total weight of 312 pounds. Yesterday there were a number of small shipments but not heavy enough to necessitate a landing of the planes here.

Chapter 19

FOR once she did not follow Angel and beg to comfort her, although Angel's wild sobs were like knife-thrusts in her heart. "Poor Angel," she thought sadly, as she walked down the hall to the kitchen. "I've failed her too. I've slapped her. I never did it before, and God forbid that I should ever do it again." A grim smile touched her lips, and she added, unexpectedly, "I waited too long. I should have done it twenty years ago."

All of Martha's bravado was gone when, a few evenings later, she recounted the incident to Louise.

"I-I don't know what ever possessed me to do such a dreadful thing. It was the last thing in the world I meant to do. She'll never forgive me. I-I suppose I should apologize."

Louise got up from her chair, came over and gave her mother a playful pat on the wrist, then kissed her gently on the cheek. "If you do that," she warned, "I know somebody else who's going to get slapped." She paused to lean over and kiss Martha again. "Don't worry, darling, Angel asked for it. She's been asking for it a long time."

Martha looked up at her gratefully, but said nothing. Louise went back to her chair, vaguely disappointed that Martha had not chosen to continue the subject. This was the first time they'd discussed Angel—in fact, the first time in weeks they had a chance for a real talk.

IT MIGHT help Martha to know that she, Louise, understood; that Louise was not blind to her mother's many problems. It might help Angel, too. Angel wasn't happy, in spite of the admiration her beauty inspired. Angel had always thrived on admiration. Her interest in men now was no reflection on her loyalty to Jimmie. Louise recognized it for what it was: self-interest. But Angel was not thriving. In fact, she was downright unhappy. It was apparent in her nervous, restless manner, her strange fits of moodiness, the way she dashed from place to place, discontented with everything and everybody.

"It isn't all temperament, or selfishness, and it isn't grief for Jimmie," Louise thought now, recalling the many times she had surprised a strained look on Angel's face—a look almost of panic. It was almost as if Angel were plagued by some dark secret that she could not, or would not, reveal. "She's hiding something from us," maybe Martha had noticed it too.

"Should I bring up the question of Bobby?" Louise asked herself, and decided against it immediately. Glancing across at Martha's pale, tired face, now bent over her sewing, Louise felt it would be nothing short of heartless to say anything that might add to her mother's worries. No, there would be no point in bringing up the subject of Bobby's behavior—unless—

"Mother," she said suddenly. "I've got an idea! What say we bring out the saxophone and let Bobby have it again. He could practice at night while Angel's at the club. It'll keep him interested."

Martha put down her sewing basket, folded the garment she'd

Chapter 20

HE WAS standing at the window, pretending to look out, his back toward Louise. Closing the door softly, she went over and put a hand on his arm. "What on earth has happened, Bobby?" she whispered, hoping Martha had heard nothing, but feeling pretty sure she had. "You—you haven't been drinking, have you?"

Bobby shrugged away from her, still keeping his back turned. "Keep your hands to yourself," he muttered.

Louise's hands fell to her side. "But—but what's happened? If—if you're in trouble of some kind, maybe I could—"

"Maybe you could try minding your own damn business and keeping out of mine," he flared, turning now to face her. "Can't a fellow have any privacy around here? Maybe I don't want to tell you what's happened. And I haven't been drinking. If that's what's worrying you—but maybe that's none of your business either."

No, Bobby hadn't been drinking—Louise could see that now. "But, Bobby, you're hurt! Your suit's torn, and your face is all bleeding! As the spoke Louise went over to the sink and began to bring out a cloth in a pan of warm water.

"Sit down over there on the cot, Bobby," she told him. "Let's get that face washed and find out the extent of the damages. Mother will throw fits if she sees you like this."

Bobby sat down docilely enough, but before Louise could bring the washpan over, Martha had come into the kitchen. She saw Bobby sitting on the cot, saw the torn zoot suit, the smear of blood on his face. For a moment she stood motionless, her eyes closed, her hands clasped together as if she were praying. Then she ran over to sit beside him. "Oh, Bobby! What have they done to you? Oh—Bobby!"

SHE pulled his head over against her breast, making little soothing noises, as she did when she tried to comfort Baby Jeanne. Bobby did not draw away from her, as he had from his sister. He seemed content just to sit there, his mother's arms around him, hiding his face against her shoulder, listening to her words of reassurance and love.

"Do you want to tell me now, dear?" said Martha after a little while.

Bobby nodded his head and sat up. He rubbed his eyes with his fists, ashamed that he'd been crying. But Martha appeared not to notice. She had taken the washpan back to the sink and was hanging up the washcloth. She began to tidy up the kitchen while she waited for Bobby to speak. For a while he was silent.

"I—well, you see I sold the saxophone. Mom. It wasn't much use anyhow—not since Angel came. Stuck away in an old cedar chest all the time."

Louise and I talked over tonight, and decided you should have your saxophone back. I'm sorry you sold it, dear. Perhaps—" She stopped. If Bobby had sold his saxophone, they could do nothing about it. Certainly they couldn't buy a new one.

"Oh, I got it back all right," announced Bobby. "It's back in the

AMERICANS EXPAND GAP IN NORMANDY LINE

Red Army Within 30 Miles of Polish Capital

Over 50,000 Nazis Face Entrapment In Pocket on Seacoast

Gen. Bradley's Forces Advance to Within Two Miles of Coutances With Fall of the Vital City Predicted Hourly

ROAD GERMAN WITHDRAWAL BEING FORCED

By GLADWIN HILL
Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, July 28—(P)—A flood tide of American tanks and armor 20 miles wide poured through the gap in the Normandy lines today to within two miles of Coutances, field dispatches said, threatening that choke point of disorderly German retreat with imminent capture.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's spearheads, slashing more than 11 miles deep since the start of the armored push Wednesday and spreading out behind the enemy flanks, had cut the 84th German army corps into little knots of resistance. But many of the corps apparently had escaped already from the Coutances pocket, where British newspapers estimated 50 to 70,000 of the enemy were being pressed against the sea.

With Allied fliers reporting scenes of chaotic retreat rivaling Marshal Erwin Rommel's debacle in North Africa more than a year ago, the can of Gen. Bradley's six spearheads reached at least to within three miles of Coutances from the northeast, supreme headquarters said. Field dispatches said the Americans held heights overlooking the town.

To the north a column wending through booby-trapped Lessay pressed down upon the withdrawing enemy for a gain of two miles. Marguerin, and another ticked off a four-mile gain from Periers to Corbuckon, Corbuckon is seven miles north of Coutances.

The Germans still are holding armored divisions to confront Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British and Canadians below Caen, in the Allied east flank where the only activity was the turning back of various small-scale enemy counterattacks.

Field dispatches said there was growing nervousness among enemy troops there, and much speculation among correspondents as to when Gen. Montgomery might let loose another of his blows.

(The London public speculated that Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., of Sicily fame, was leading this huge stream of men and armor pouring through the gap. London newspapers declared 50,000 to 55,000 Germans were threatened with being caught in the pocket against the seacoast.)

Eighth Army Plunges Ahead Against Stiffening Resistance

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Rome, July 28—(P)—The Eighth Army plunged steadily on toward Florence today against stiff German resistance. New Zealand troops capturing the town of San Casciano only seven airline miles from the city as American and German artillery duelled across the Arno river in the opening stages of the battle for Pisa.

New Zealand troops also were reported fighting in the vicinity of Garbaisa, eight miles southwest of Florence and only six miles from the Arno.

On their left, Indian units made gains of yesterday's most substantial gains, pushing three miles northwest from Monte Spertoli toward the Arno valley. Still further west, other Eighth Army forces grabbed to within four miles of Empoli, on the Arno 28 miles east of Pisa.

On the Adriatic end of the front Polish troops pushed patrols across the Misa river under heavy enemy artillery and mortar fire. Forward elements were reported fighting in the outskirts of Enigallia at the river's mouth.

The Germans continued to lay smoke screens to conceal their activities along the north bank of the Arno river, especially in the right wing of the Fifth Army.

The German air force made its infrequent night appearance in the Fifth Army area, dropping flares and anti-personnel bombs, causing neither damage or casualties.

CHANGE IN ERIC YM
Eric, July 28—(P)—Howard Eric will become physical director of the East Liberty YMCA in Pittsburgh Sept. 1. He resigned yesterday as assistant physical director at the Erie YMCA and will be succeeded by A. L. Mould.

GREAT AERIAL BATTLES RAGE OVER EUROPE

American Flying Fortresses Smash at Targets in Central Germany Under Escort of Fighters

AFTER NIGHT ACTIVITIES

BULLETIN
London, July 28—(P)—American air forces hurled more than 3,000 planes today at dwindling German oil resources, striking synthetic fuel plants at Merseburg in the rich Ploesti oil fields in Romania. Half the force was heavy bombers striking from both England and Italy.

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR (AP)—American Flying Fortresses, 1,000 strong, smashed at targets in central Germany today under escort of an equal number of fighters, and the Berlin radio reported that great aerial battles raged across the skies as Nazi planes tangled with the raiding armada.

The assaults were launched despite continuation of the cloudy weather which has restricted air operations over the North Sea during the past two weeks, and which forced the raiders over the Reich to employ overcast aiming instruments.

Ti. daylight raids followed a night of activity by Italy-based bombers, which hammered the Romanian oil center of Ploesti while home-based RAF Mosquitos pestered Stuttgart for the third time in four nights.

The German radio said Bucharest was bombed also last night. It was the first time daylight bombers have been over the Reich since they found up the war's heaviest week-long offensive July 21 and the first time British based American heavy bombers have been out in great strength since the record fleet of well over 1,500 helped launch the American advance west of St. Lo Tuesday.

Mediterranean Allied air force bombers attacked the Manfred Weiss armaments plant near Budapest yesterday—their third batch at targets of this type in recent days.

RAF Lancasters and Stirlings snatched flying bomb launching sites in northern France in daylight raids of this type in recent days.

Party For Italian Soldiers Cancelled

Chambersburg, July 28—(P)—Maj. J. C. Wilson, administrative officer of the Lettenkeny Army Ordnance depot, said today a weekend party at Jeannette, Pa., for 25 Italian soldiers had been cancelled for "military reasons," and that the soldiers were not war prisoners, but former prisoners who had volunteered for quarter-master service in the U. S. army under war department regulations. The cancellation followed protests by Frank X. Murray, commander of the Pennsylvania state department of the American Legion, who had referred to the Italians as "war prisoners" and said the entertainment was "an insult to those of our boys who will never return as a result of the Italian campaign."

The party had been arranged by the Garibaldi Beneficial Society of Jeannette.

No Ration-Free Beefsteaks Or Roasts for Couple Weeks

Washington, July 28—(P)—There'll be no ration-free beefsteaks or roasts for a couple of weeks at the earliest.

The Office of Price Administration announced yesterday that the present ration point values on all meats and dairy products would be maintained until at least Aug. 12. The War Food Administration had ordered OPA to discontinue rationing of most beef steaks and roasts by Aug. 1. OPA registered vigorous protests, however, and succeeded in having the directive set aside temporarily.

Meetings between the two agencies and other government officials scheduled in the next few days will determine whether commercial and utility grade steaks and roasts will come off the ration list in mid-August.

While distribution of August processed food point charts was held up along with the meat tables, OPA indicated a few changes in the values on canned foods probably will be announced Saturday and go into effect Sunday.

Ker-choo Season Is Just Around Corner

Harrisburg, July 28—(P)—Approach of the ker-choo season, due in mid-August when ragweed blooms, brought word today from the agriculture department that enough weeds are prevalent to cause plenty of hay fever. Dr. William D. Schrack, Jr., of the health department's bureau of health conservation, advised sufferers to keep away from weeds and other sources of pollen as much as possible. The period starting August 10 to 16, when ragweed blooms, and lasting to the first frost is a trying time for hay fever victims, but Dr. Schrack commented tree pollens in April and those of timothy, red top and orchard grasses in June also cause suffering by some persons.

Byrnes Ready To Retire To Private Life

By HAROLD OLIVER
Washington, July 28—(P)—After nearly 30 years in the center of the Washington political whirligig—and a brief turn on the U. S. supreme court—James F. Byrnes, 65-year-old hustling South Carolinian, is believed by his friends to be preparing to step quietly out of public life.

Snidling Jimmy, after 12 years as a senator and 14 years as a member of the house, went on the highest court of the land a few years ago, believing he was "fixed for life." Came the war and President Roosevelt, who had called on his friend many times in the past to do trouble-shooting for him, drafted him once more.

He took Byrnes off the court and made him director of the Office of War Mobilization, the most powerful wartime job ever held by a civilian in the nation's history, except that of the chief executive himself. "Assistant president" called him. Byrnes thus completes the cycle of serving in all three coordinate branches of government in less than four years.

His office associates said yesterday he had fixed no time for his resignation. But one put it this way: "Whenever this job ceases to be a war job, he (Byrnes) is not going to be here."

Dewey Denounces Rep. Fish For Stand on Racial Issues

By JACK BELL
Albany, N. Y., July 28—(P)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey announced opposition today to the reelection of Rep. Hamilton Fish, Republican, who is running in the 29th New York congressional district, on the ground Fish had raised "racial and religious issues."

In a statement dictated to reporters by James C. Hagerty, Dewey's press secretary, the GOP presidential nominee said:

"Two years ago I publicly opposed the nomination and election of Congressman Fish. Statements attributed to him confirm my judgment expressed at that time. "Anyone who injects a racial or religious issue in a political campaign is guilty of a disgraceful, un-American act."

Fish, who announced recently he would support the national Republican ticket, was quoted by Hagerty as having been interviewed by the New York Post and having told a reporter that paper that "the Jews are more or less for the new deal, unfortunately."

The statement on Fish was the first made by Dewey since his nomination concerning prospective support by any Republican for the national ticket.

Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, the vice presidential nominee, said at a press conference here Wednesday that the support of all Republicans willing to vote for the Republican ticket would be welcomed as far as he was concerned. Dewey made no comment at that time.

Meanwhile Dewey's plans for refurbishing the federal government—if the electorate gives him the nod in November—were put strictly on a four-year basis today, with the Republican nominee calling for an end of what he termed a "new deal 'warefare' on states' rights."

Listing a series of topics for study by a GOP governors conference at St. Louis next week, Dewey said he hoped the Republicans could fix "an area of responsibility to the people," as between federal and local governments, that would settle the problem "not permanently, but for our time, or rather, the next four years."

GABRESKI CELEBRATION WILL BE ON A SUNDAY

Oil City, July 28—(P)—So that busy war workers can attend, the homecoming fete for Lt. Col. Francis S. Gabreski will be held on a Sunday afternoon in August, the celebration committee announced in continuing plans to honor the nation's top scoring air ace.

The committee said the Sunday date would also eliminate any possible interference of traffic by the giant parade. The ace who has shot down 28 Nazi planes in combat expects to begin a furlough next month.

DEVASTATING STABS MADE IN CAROLINES

Shrinking Japanese Empire Bleeds From Five New Allied Thrusts in the Pacific

TEN SHIPS WIPED OUT

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor
The shrinking Japanese empire bled today from five new Allied thrusts, including a devastating U. S. stab into the Carolines which wiped out 10 ships and 26 planes and reduced Palau as a stumbling block on the Allied road to the Philippines.

On eight sea and land battlefields the best Japan could manage was a stand-off against the underdog Chinese at Hengyang. Allied victories were scored at Palau, Truk, Sabang and on China's two battlefronts.

Carrier planes of a fast American task force raided Palau and other western Caroline bases for two days (July 24-25), sinking a destroyer, an oiler, a destroyer escort of mine-layer, seven cargo vessels and many smaller craft.

Another stinging blow, inflicted by bombers of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command, sunk one ship and fired three others of a five-ship convoy 150 miles south of Truk.

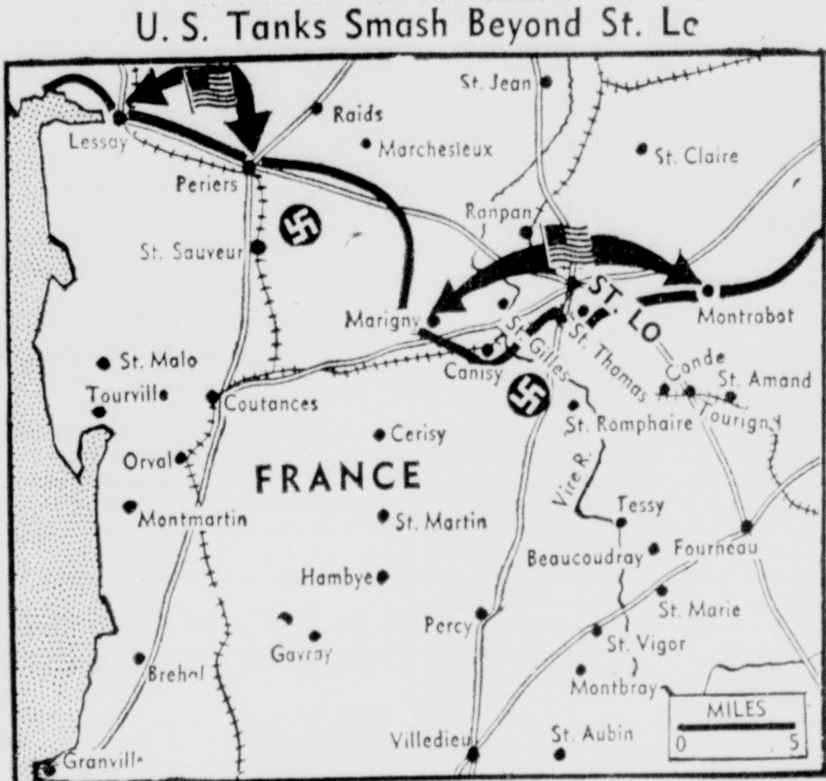

A third sea blow by a British-directed fleet hit Sabang at the northwest tip of Sumatra and wrecked its harbor, vital to control of the Japanese supply line to Burma via Singapore.

London announced today, in addition, that British submarines destroyed 21 Japanese supply and other ships in far eastern waters recently, and damaged several by torpedoes and gunfire.

Allied land successes nearly matched these clear-cut sea victories. On Guam and Tinian in the Marianas U. S. troops pressed the isolated enemy garrisons closer to annihilation.

On New Guinea the trapped enemy still probed, in vain, for a weak spot in the Allied encirclement.

The Chinese recaptured Leiyang. (Turn to Page Eleven)

This is the battle line around St. Lo with an American tank drive of record power in its third smashing day of advance. The St. Lo-Coutances highway is cut, and German defenders in the western Lessay-Periers area are threatened with being boxed in if they do not withdraw. Every German withdrawal lengthens the lines they must defend against superior air power.

Senator Warns This Is No Time To Get Happily Excited

By DON HYNDMAN
Washington, July 28—(P)—Talk of the chances for an early victory over Germany swept optimistically through congress members today, moderated by advice from Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) that this is no time to get happily excited.

McCormack, Democratic leader in the house, sent word from Boston that "I am amazed at Senator Vandenberg's (R-Mich) forecast of an early German collapse." He added: "This is not the time for responsible political leaders to build up an expectation of an early return to the ways of peace. It is rather the time to inspire a grim determination to go forward and win the war."

Vandenberg had said that "chances for an early German collapse are sufficiently encouraging" to make it urgent for congress to act on bills for reconversion of industry from war uses. He has summoned Republican senators to a conference next Tuesday, when congress ends its summer recess.

Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military affairs committee, ventured the forecast that Germany would capitulate by December 1. Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) head of the senate subcommittee on military appropriations, commented: "I don't see how Germany can last through the rest of this year."

Much less hopeful were statements this week by Secretary of War Stimson, Navy Secretary Forrestal and Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the fleet.

Tokyo Denies Execution Of U. S. Pilots

London, July 28—(P)—Tokyo broadcast today an official denial that "American pilots who crashed on Japanese soil have been executed or would be executed."

The Japanese broadcast said it had so notified the United States government, through neutral Switzerland, repudiating a Singapore broadcast of two weeks ago which referred to a "single journey ticket" for superfortress airplanes landing in Japan. Tokyo's denial apparently was intended to nip the Superfortress fliers, since the United States government has announced officially Tokyo's acknowledgment of the execution of some of the fliers who bombed Tokyo in the Doolittle attack of 1942.

On July 15 the Japanese, in an English-language broadcast from Singapore, had been reported by Allied listeners as saying "any Allied (Turn to Page Two)

"Flying Jane" In Airplane Is Killed

Stillwater, Okla., July 28—(P)—The voice of "G. I. Jane in the Airplane," who made daily recruiting broadcasts for the WASCS over Oklahoma cities, was killed today. Pvt. Marjorie Babinetz, a native of Mansfield, Pa., and a resident of Stillwater, was killed today, along with her pilot, in an airplane crash on a Stillwater street yesterday.

Yesterday's crash occurred on her thirteenth broadcast flight over Oklahoma. When the flights were started, Col. Thomas R. Lynch, commander of the Oklahoma City Air Service command, described her as "our flying representative to women of Oklahoma. She truly is a home front soldier, doing a job which carries battlefront importance."

BREST LITOVSK IS ABANDONED TO RUSSIANS

Numerous Red Triumphs Are Announced in Record Spurge of Orders of Day By Stalin

BLACK DAY FOR BERLIN

By the Associated Press
London, July 28—Brest Litovsk, last great fortress position before Warsaw, was abandoned to the onrushing Russian armies today along with Kaunas in Lithuania, Berlin announced.

Soviet troops charged within 30 miles of the Polish capital. In a 17-mile advance beyond the San river, they penetrated to a point 128 miles from German Silesia.

Brest Litovsk and Kaunas gave the Russians 10 major triumphs in 24 hours as they whipped through the Baltic states. Poland and the Carpathian foothills toward eastern Prussia, German Silesia and Czechoslovakia.

Nearest Russian troops were within 340 miles of Berlin itself with the capture of Garwolin, 30 miles southeast of Warsaw.

Other Russian triumphs were announced in a record spurge of orders of the day by Marshal Stalin in coloring Moscow's skies with many-colored flares for five hours until midnight.

These were the other victories: 1. Lwow, third city of old Poland and one of Europe's greatest rail centers, topped last night after days of street fighting. The city of 317,700 is on the Bucharest-Warsaw-Berlin railroad and was a barrier to Czechoslovakia and Hungary. Moscow's Izvestia said Lwow still was burning from German demolitions and that "tens of thousands of innocent people" had been slain in a Nazi reign of terror.

2. Siauliai, third city of Lithuania with 31,299 persons, fell last night. Thus the last major railway was cut by which the estimated 300,000 troops of the 30 divisions of the German 16th and 18th armies could escape or be supplied. The victory placed the Russians 75 miles northeast of the East Prussia city of Tilsit, 85 miles northeast of the Baltic port of Memel and 125 miles northeast of Warsaw. (Turn to Page Two)

Wounded Soldiers Killed In Crash

London, July 28—(P)—Twenty-four persons, including 17 wounded American soldiers, were killed last night when a U. S. troop transport plane hit a cliff near Mull of Galloway, in southwest Scotland.

Six members of the crew and a nurse were among the victims. The wounded were on their way to a Scottish hospital from southern England.

A fire followed the crash and many bodies were burned beyond recognition. The plane struck a 40-foot cliff. Had it flown a few feet higher, the barrier would have been cleared. Two other planes in the formation landed at a Scottish airdrome and gave the alarm.

Excellent Program Arranged For "Pop" Concert Tonight

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Band will present a "pop" concert from 7:00 to 8:00 p. m. on the lawn in front of the municipal building at Third avenue and Hickory street.

The program, subject to possible changes, will be as follows: National Emblem, March, by Bagley. Lustspiel, Overture, by Keler-Bela. Semper Paratus, (Coast Guard Marching Song), by Van Boskerk. Texarkana, Fox Trot, by Holmes. "Through the Air" Solo for Piccolo, by August Damm. Gu. Soloist, T. W. Dunn. The Huntress, March, by King. 5-minute intermission. The Wanderer's Call, Selection, by Guentzel. Old Comrades, March, by Telke. Old Timers Waltz, arranged by Lake. S. I. B. A., March, by Hall.

Songs of the Armed Forces. Vocal, with band accompaniment. Guest Soloist, Edmund Snyder. The abc program includes some well liked favorites. The National Emblem, is a march known to all. "Lustspiel" is one of the liveliest and more stirring overtures, with no dead spots in it. "Semper Paratus", while not so well known as some of the other service songs, is a very catchy and tuneful number. Texarkana has a robust air about it which has survived the test of time. "Through the Air" gives the soloist an opportunity to display the powers of that small instrument, the piccolo, to a fine advantage. "The Huntress" is one of King's better marches, and he has written some good ones. The "Wanderer's Call" is a relatively recent number, written in a descriptive vein, and the call (Turn to Page Two)

Warren Republicans To Greet Dewey At Pittsburgh Monday

A delegation of Warren county Republicans will go to Pittsburgh on Monday to meet Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the GOP standard bearer in the campaign for President of the United States. They will gather with leaders from all portions of the state to attend a series of conferences on the campaign and the day promises to be a busy one. Pennsylvania Republicans are planning a campaign to carry the state for Dewey and Bricker and expect to pull a heavy vote.

Bishop Wroth Undergoes An Operation

Associated Press wires this morning carried the information that Bishop Pinkney Wroth, of Erie, formerly of the Trinity Memorial Church of this city had undergone a serious operation yesterday. It was later learned that Bishop Wroth was resting well today following the operation.

Warren friends of Bishop Wroth had learned some days ago that he had been ill since July 15 and had been in St. Vincent's Hospital under the care of Dr. Elmer Hess, of Erie.

The host of Warren friends of the churchman extend best wishes for a speedy recovery.

15 INJURED IN TROLLEY CRASH IN QUAKER CITY

Philadelphia, July 28—(P)—Two crowded trolley cars collided head-on at a residential area intersection today, injuring 15 persons, throwing scores of passengers from their seats and causing several women passengers to faint as flying glass spread over their heads.

The accident occurred at the peak of the morning rush. Persons standing at the intersection hoped police to remove the injured.

TIMES TOPICS

NO SERVICE
Because of the pastor's absence from the city, there will be no Sunday morning preaching service in the Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church, but Sunday school will be at 10:45 as usual.

ESCAPED ARREST
Police last night were notified that a man with a car on the East Side was in no condition to drive it and they hastened to the scene. However, when they arrived they discovered that a friend had driven the fellow home and he had escaped arrest.

TO BE ORDAINED
The Rev. William T. Lane, who recently assumed his duties as pastor of Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church here, left this morning with Mrs. Lane and their son for Rome, N. Y., where he will be ordained on Sunday evening in his home church, Trinity Evangelical Reformed.

CORN IN MARKET
Green corn is in the market from Warren county fields and it is priced at about 45 cents the dozen in most stores. The vegetable is finding ready sale and along with tomatoes, cucumbers and other food products from nearby farms is forming a large part of the diet of Warrenites.

CLASS PRESIDENT
Word is received today from Pennsylvania State College that Terry L. Ruhlman, Warren sophomore majoring in chemical engineering, has been elected president of the fourth semester class. In addition to his class duties, he will be a member of the All-College Cabinet, highest student governing body.

MANY AT MEETING
The annual Pleasantville Camp Meeting of the Free Methodist Church is now in session and a number from this city are in attendance. The attendance is large and the program will have some eminent church leaders as speakers. The camp meeting will be followed in a few days by a Young People's conference which will be held on the camp meeting grounds.

WANTS TO BUY SALVAGE
Tom Williams, dealer in junk and who has taken a large part in the gathering of salvage materials is suggesting that the people of the vicinity turn their waste paper, metal scrap, etc., into cash. He is prepared to handle it all on a cash basis and has an advertisement in another column today suggesting that he be called to pick up any salvage material.

AT SHEFFIELD TODAY
This afternoon a representative of the G. G. Greene, Inc., is at Sheffield with a representative of the War Manpower Commission interviewing men and women for places in the company's plant on Fourth avenue. The Greene Company recently purchased the building formerly occupied by the Warren Wholesale Company and is busy there with an essential war product for which help is urgently needed.

RUSH SHIPMENT
In order to get needed replacements to a city in New Jersey for an important piece of work the Baseline Company of North Warren last evening sent forth a ton of material by express. It was loaded in the baggage car of the train on a preferred shipping arrangement so that no transfer in Philadelphia would be necessary as the train goes direct into New York and stops at the city for which the shipment was billed.

INVESTIGATING FIRE
Special Officer Ambrose, of the New York Central Police Department spent yesterday in the city probing the fire which took place in a box car of the railroad this week. He rounded up a group of boys who were questioned at the local police station but no information was received on which arrests might be based. It is thought the fire resulted from boys playing in the car.

INSPECTION DATE ENDS
Monday will be the last day on which an inspection sticker on the old jalopy. The period set for inspection of all motor cars ends at midnight Monday and if the sticker is not in place the car cannot be driven. It has been stated by the State Revenue Department that there will be no extension allowed after the deadline, midnight July 31st. The number of inspection stations in the state have been cut down and a final rush will swamp the stations and delay the inspection.

TO ATTEND BRADFORD MEET
John P. Fenstermacher, Edward W. Johnson, Forest W. Waite and A. F. Kottcamp are in Bradford this afternoon and evening representing the Warren Chamber of Commerce at a District Conference of men and women conducting local organizations throughout Warren, McKean, Elk, Forest and Cameron counties. The conference is being sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce and the Pennsylvania Commercial Secretaries Association. The Bradford Chamber will entertain the Conference at a dinner at the Emery Hotel at 7 p. m. Secretary Kottcamp is one of the three conference speakers.

NOTICE
The office of Dr. G. W. Casler will be closed until August 20th. July 28-1t.

may be traced through the selection in its various moods. Old Comrades", written in tribute to the dead of the first world war, is one of the outstanding marches of continental origin. The Old Timers' Waltz" brings back memories of the days when the survey with the fringe on top was an every day sight, rather than a song title, and to say that the S. I. R. A. was an R. B. Hall march tells the veteran bardman that it is worth listening to.

The vocal number is thoroughly two-fisted and you will probably find yourself humming along with it.

It is understood that plans are under way to repeat this concert at the State Hospital about a week later.

This concert is the second of the three "pop" concerts scheduled for this summer. The Struthers-Wells band having presented one a month ago, and the National Forge being scheduled to present the final one of the series the latter part of next month.

With each program chosen by a different director, the varied nature of the music presented is sure to satisfy all tastes in music and it is probable that the character of future presentations will be tempered by the reception accorded the various selections offered in this series of concerts.

Remember the time and place, and get there early enough to be sure of being able to get a seat.

Cabins Draw Attention From Prospective Hunting Parties

Gilbert Peterson, of Sheffield, spent the day in Warren on business and while here discussed plans which are maturing for a hunting camp which he will erect on his property along the Six Mile. Mr. Peterson has a camp of his own which he has completed and it is comfortable and well arranged. But in addition to this cabin he plans to erect 20 others which he will rent.

So far three of the cabins are completed. He has erected them of brick to foil the inroads of the porcupines, who gnaw their way into and around cabins built of wood. They are also finished with concrete floor and concrete porches. Each also has a natty fireplace where a good old wood fire can be set blazing on cool days and evenings. The cabins will be rented by the year and insurance and police protection will be given them so that campers may safely leave their equipment in the cabins.

Already the news of the new cabins has travelled far and last Sunday a party from Erie visited the camp and inspected the cabins preparatory to leasing one of them for use during the summer and the hunting and fishing season. They are ideally situated with two good fishing streams available and the best hunting lands in this section right at the door.

It is understood that a number of others in the county are preparing to erect cabins in the woodlands and along the streams as they have discovered that the cabins are easily rented and are a good source of income. Even in

Warren's Public Library was not always the splendid institution which it is today with its thousands of volumes and splendid building and competent group in charge. It had considerable of a struggle and Fannie M. Smith had a large share in bringing the library and its affairs to the public's attention.

And Miss Smith was not only interested in the library but other interests also won her work, interest and warm support. For many years she was a leader in various civic affairs and performed a yeoman work in getting various projects under way.

So to Fannie M. Smith may we present a fine bouquet of orchids for her worthy efforts to make Warren a better place in which to live and to make the cultural side of the city broader in every way.

READING & WRITING BY Edwin Seaver and Robin McKoun

John P. Marquand, Pulitzer prize-winning novelist and well known magazine and detective story writer, has joined the editorial board of the Book-of-the-Month Club.

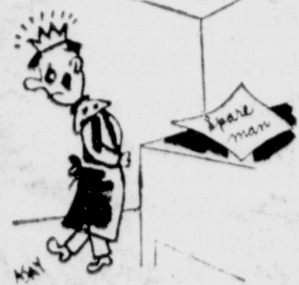

JOHN P. MARQUAND

of his books may be chosen. It has been a rule of the organization, since its inception in 1926, that no judge may have one of his own books selected for distribution.

In announcing the appointment of the new judge, Harry Scherman, president of the Book-of-the-Month Club, stated: "John Marquand's straight and unorthodox appraisal of people and life has become well known to the public through his novels. It extends to books. The present members of the Board are delighted that henceforth they will have his good sense and judgment supplementing their own views."

"Anna and the King of Siam" by Margaret Landon, tells the story of Anna Leonowens who taught the royal children of the King of Siam and acted as his personal secretary back in the 1860's. The King's limited knowledge of the English language sometimes caused curious mix-ups. Once he found an English newspaper story which referred to him as "a spare man." Enraged, he protested he was not a spare man, that the Kingdom couldn't possibly do without him. Anna vainly protested that the story merely meant he was a thin man. He wouldn't listen to her. He insisted on having an elaborate dinner for all the English in Bangkok. He would show them. At the dinner, Anna whispered a few words to the English consul, who then rose and made a toast, "To his Gracious Majesty, the King of Siam, our host. It would be a sad day for our country if her King ever became a spare man." Some of the guests looked a little bewildered at such a toast, but the King's smile was that of a pleased child.

BANQUET FOR ITALIAN PRISONERS PROTESTED

Harrisburg, July 28 (P)—Commander Frank X. Murray of the Pennsylvania American Legion has appealed to Senator James J. Davis, Senator Joseph F. Guffey, and the American public to halt plans for a banquet at Jeanette, tomorrow night at which he said Italian war prisoners were to be entertained.

In a telegram sent to the state's two United States senators late yesterday Commander Murray declared that the American Legion condemns the action planned at Jeanette and demands that orders be rescinded for this and other entertainment of similar character.

SATURDAY NIGHT PARTIES

Ruth Millett who writes a column "We, the Women," for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror, offers the following interesting sidelight as one reason for small attendance in many Sunday school rooms:

One of the questions considered by delegates to a recent convention of religious leaders was the steady decrease in Sunday school attendance, which has been reported in all denominations in recent years.

The leaders say they want to find out what the trends are that are causing this steady decrease.

The ministers might find at least one reason for poor Sunday school attendance if they checked up to see how the young parents in their congregations, and those not affiliated with a church, spend their Saturday nights.

The average young couple with one or more small children count on Saturday night as their "night out." It is their time to forget for a little while the responsibilities and the routine of their lives and be young. So they call in a high school girl to sit with junior and they get dressed up and go out to recapture fun and romance.

That is, on the whole, all to the good so far as their marriage relationship is concerned. They need that night out.

But unfortunately it comes on Saturday—so that the parents can sleep late on Sunday, which they do. And so junior doesn't get taken or sent to Sunday school. It is just too much trouble.

If religious leaders could somehow persuade young couples to taken another night out instead of Saturday—they might have more luck getting them interested in getting up early enough on Sunday to get children to Sunday school.

But so long as Saturday night is "date night" for the young married sets of the country—there are going to be a lot of vacant chairs in Sunday school rooms.

SECRET WEAPONS

Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels assures his people that Germany has secret weapons, the sight of which made his heart "stand still"—and despite his tendency to falsehood and bombast we shall be unwise to dismiss this lightly. Certainly the citizens of Britain, who are suffering death and destruction from Hitler's new robot bombs, don't discount the possibility of further devilish inventions. Prime Minister Churchill has warned them to be prepared for even greater trials.

However, DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press war analyst, says, "we shan't have to wait long to learn the truth. The Germans will have to get their secret weapons into action fast, if they hope to gain any advantage before the swiftly rising tide of disaster engulfs them on the fighting front—as witness today's good news from both Europe and Normandy."

If Hitler has a new weapon it's a fair bet that, like the flying bomb, they're calculated to smash civilian morale, without having great military value. There's no secret weapon likely to halt the Allied offensive. Hitler's sole hope is that by hook or by crook he may secure a compromise peace.

That being so, the long suffering people of England may be about to undergo further trials of stamina, since they are the ones he can reach readily.

Warren isn't going to be caught napping when Germany capitulates. Members of the Citizens Committee arranging a Victory celebration when the occasion arises, yesterday placed an order for the fireworks that will be used on that memorable event. Every effort is being made to speed the delivery of the order to Warren as soon as possible. In the meantime the financial committee is busy raising funds to cover the expenses of the "blow-out". It's going to be an historic day for the community. Every person may have a part by contributing when solicited.

Another of those popular community young people's recreation programs is scheduled at Beatty this evening and it is a foregone conclusion that another large crowd will be in attendance. Sponsored by the Community P. T. A. Council and arranged to provide entertainment for young people of Warren and vicinity this is a highly commendable project that is receiving the support it deserves from adults and young people as well.

With promise of delightful weather the second "pop" concert to be played this evening on the lawn of the municipal building by the V. F. W. band will be enjoyed by a large crowd of music lovers from Warren and surrounding communities. An article appearing in another part of this issue reveals a diversified program of popular band numbers that assures a delightful evening for all who can attend.

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1924

Elaborate plans have been made for the picnic and outing of the United Commercial Travelers which will be held at Ferncliff Saturday. The affair will be a basket picnic and games and sports of various kinds will afford the entertainment.

Many from Sheffield are paying visits to the new highway which is being laid toward Warren from Sheffield. The road will reach Saybrook by the end of the week so fast is concrete being poured.

A census of cars passing the street car barns was taken yesterday and between 9 and 3 o'clock over 700 cars bearing New York state licenses passed.

Forty-five members of the Warren American Legion Post attended the annual picnic and outing of the Jamestown Legion which was held yesterday at Hillside Park, Jamestown.

Work of tearing out the old lights on State street, North Warren, to make room for the new ones, has started. Manager Ray Brady of the electric company says the new system should be in use during August.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINETT

WASHINGTON—On the basis of the last published report, nearly 50,000 of our 274,000 World War I casualties are men "missing in action."

Officials here are finding that the families of these "missing men" have little conception of what continuing benefits they have under existing laws.

The "missing in action" list is composed of men (or women) who can't be accounted for. In a large percentage of the cases, this doesn't mean that the men are dead. Tom Harmon, the football star turned air ace, was twice reported missing in action for long periods but today is slugging it out with our enemies.

MEN who are captured, but have not yet been reported by the enemy through the international Red Cross are the most frequent cases of missing in action, especially in the Pacific.

Others missing in action are those interned in neutral countries (mostly after forced plane landings); those separated from their units who may wander for days even behind enemy lines before they can report; plane crews who may be living with natives in the jungles or hiding in the undergrounds of Europe; and the unlocated dead.

Every attracted much attention as they wended their way through the city today with a police escort at the head. The picnic was held at the Outing Club today.

The Woodhicks Orchestra will furnish the music for the dance at the White Swan Inn at Wrightsville Saturday night. The Hicks have won a fine reputation for their dance music.

A cast of forty will present the Little Chauve Souris at the Womans Club on August 2 and 3. Two

After a man has been missing a year, military officials go over the reports, reclassify them as best they can. But there's no real reason for a family to despair because they receive a telegram from the Army or Navy that their man in service is missing. Thousands of them do turn up.

IN THE interim, it isn't the intention of the government that any family should suffer. A man's pay continues as long as the official status of "missing" is maintained on the service records. Benefits to wives or dependents are continued just as if the man still were with his unit. If family or dependent allotments aren't in effect when the man is reported missing, they may be established by applications to the Secretary of the War or Navy. Such payments also are made by the government for maintaining insurance on the missing man.

These payments are deducted from the soldier's or sailor's accrued pay, but if it develops later that the man was killed, the deductions have no bearing on the benefits paid to dependents or heirs.

The military departments here urge all dependents or next of kin of man reported missing to take up matters they don't understand with the local Red Cross or the American Legion. If these are unavailable, write your congressman.

of the numbers to be given were in the original production. The entertainment promises to please all who attend.

DETAIL FOR TODAY

Irish Pennant

In the Navy and Coastguard, an IRISH PENNANT is anything that has not been stowed away properly. Pin-up pictures, stockings, and underthings have an uncanny way of becoming IRISH PENNANTS. Any sloppy, loose ends that stick out of the ventilator openings or the sides of the locker door can get their owner into a lot of trouble on inspection day. In most cases, IRISH PENNANTS are collected and the owners' names taken. The unfortunate whose name appears on the inspection list is a marked man. In all future inspections he is inspected more closely, and if the name is taken again, his chances of having no liberty for a week or so are more than excellent.

Rain Saturday Due According To Mr. Culver

"It always rains on July 29 and I have the records to prove it," was the statement of Ralph Culver, Times Square tontorial artist yesterday. "It has rained on July 29 for 63 years," Mr. Culver continued, "it never misses. Sometimes the rain is not heavy but sometimes it is. I have been flooded in this barber shop three times on July 29 by the water which was so heavy it wouldn't run away and I have a leery eye out for Saturday."

Now Ralph isn't the oldest resident in the city but he has been here for some time and he must have handed down to him some old time weather records or must have commenced keeping records
while cutting his first set of mol-
ars.

Off To Erie For Physical Examinations

Draft Board No. 2 sent another group to Erie this morning for physical examinations preparatory to being called into service of the armed forces. The group was a small one and was composed of the following:

Charles R. Allen, Grand Valley.
Ralph Bellomo, Warren.
Robert H. Bower, Pittsfield.
Warren W. Flasher, Pittsfield.
Delmar K. Flasher, Pittsfield.
(Trans. from L. B. No. 1, Rockville, Md.)
Robert S. Moore, Cleveland.
Basil Pokosh, Pittsfield.
James R. Pratt, North Warren.
Paul F. Roberts, Columbus.
Charles W. Stewart, Bear Lake.
John Wroblewski, Youngsville.

State's Waste Paper Quota Not Being Met

Pennsylvania's waste paper collection goal for the year is 600,000 tons, an increase of 64,542 tons monthly for the rest of 1944, according to an announcement made by the Advisory Committee on Salvage.

With complete reports on June collections, which amounted to 54,461 tons, collections for the first six months of the year totaled 224,746 tons, leaving a deficit of 75,254 tons for the first half of the year. If the state is to achieve its goal, it will be necessary to make up the deficit during the next six months.

That means that the quota for the July to December period is 375,254 tons or 62,542 tons per month. This is a quota of 12½ pounds per capita per month for every county in the state.

Colley S. Baker, executive secretary, stated that the state is not supplying enough waste paper for war production purposes. So important is the need for paper that OPA increased the ceiling prices from $2 to $5 per ton on the basic grades of waste paper recently.

Brokenstraw Garden Club Holds Delightful Dinner-Meet

Youngville, July 27—Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Pentecost entertained the Brokenstraw Valley Garden Club Tuesday evening at their summer home on East Main street. Small tables were arranged on the lawn and a very fine tureen dinner enjoyed. Guests were then invited into the house for the evening's meeting with Mrs. C. C. Johnson, the president, presiding. Each person present was given the scrambled name of a vegetable and at the roll call named this vegetable and told how they liked their vegetable prepared.

It was decided the position of secretary of the Garden Club needed additional help and Mrs. H. H. Husted was elected to assist Mrs. Gladys Swanson in this office. A special collection for the Youngville Service Club, which now brings cheer to a large group of local service men in U.S.A. and abroad, received a generous response.

Approval was given by the Garden Club to the action of the Youngville Council in requesting that all weeds along the curbs of the Borough be cut down. The Garden Club urges owners of property to see that it is done at once. It was decided to have the Brokenstraw Valley Garden Club have some type of exhibit at the Fair. As a committee for this the president appointed Mrs. C. A. Solberg, Mrs. Edith Husted, Mrs. Black, Mrs. Mertie Kay, Mrs. Lena Hendrickson and Mrs. James Hamilton.

Following the business session Mr. S. N. Pentecost gave an interesting and helpful talk with the general theme "Gardening". He considered the topic from the viewpoint of first preparing the soil; second planting; third the care of the growing crop and fourth the harvest.

The August meeting, to be held Tuesday the 15th, will be a tureen dinner at the home of Mrs. C. A. Solberg. Green corn is promised by the hostess. Roll call will be the naming of "Annals". A talk is to be given on the "Arrangement of Flowers for a Flower Show".

RUSSELL

Russell, July 27—The Ladies Aid Circle meeting was held at the church with Mrs. Edwin Branstrom presiding. It was decided to have a rummage sale this fall. The August meeting will be a picnic dinner with the meeting in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Martin Kelly.

The Firemen's Auxiliary and their husbands were entertained at the home of Mrs. Grace Swanson with twenty present. Various games were enjoyed with prizes awarded Mr. De Water, Mrs. H. C. Schlaack, Mrs. C. M. Lewis, Mrs. B. F. Baxter and Mrs. Arthur Van Ord. The hostess assisted by Mrs. Marvin Kelley served refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. M. Lewis.

Private Harold Duell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Duell is home for a 20 day furlough from Camp Haan, Calif.

Pfc Walter Branstrom of Harvard, Neb., and 2nd Lieut. Robert Branstrom and his wife of Hays, Kans., are spending their furloughs at the home of their parents Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Branstrom.

Mrs. I. G. Darling who has been a patient at the Jamestown hospital arrived home Wednesday.

Mrs. Lawrence Briggs arrived home from the Warren hospital Tuesday.

Sunday the following spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Duell. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Duell of Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. Frick of Tiona, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson of Warren. Mr. and Mrs. Lipton Sadler and family of Falconer spent Sunday with relatives here.

The Wiltzie Ladies Aid Society meeting was held at the Wiltzie

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Actors are sensitive people and they can stand just so much. So Ralph Bellamy went away from Hollywood and he's back now, bigger and better of course.

What got the Bellamy goat, after 13 years in Hollywood, was a movie script he was reading. One of the characters in it was described as "a dull fellow from the Middle West—a Ralph Bellamy type."

So Bellamy, doubtless muttering, reached for the telephone and made reservations for New York. This was a year or more ago, when all you had to do to ride a train was buy a ticket. And then he was off to Broadway, an actor in search of a job.

"Hollywood and I," he said then, "have reached an impasse. Either they have me losing the girl in the last reel, or I'm inventing something to keep monsters under control, or I'm from the Middle West—and an oaf besides."

The job he found was in "Tomorrow the World," the play about the Nazi indoctrinated brat who comes to an American home. In it, every night, he had to do battle with Skippy Homeier, the brat. "I enjoyed it," he said. "I let Skippy become to me a symbol of all the movie casting directors who always saw Bellamy just as the other guy from Indiana."

Hunt Stromberg saw the play, bought Bellamy's contract so he could come to Hollywood for his

"Guest in the House," and so far no producer has approached him with a script containing dull fellows of the Ralph Bellamy type. That, to Ralph, seems even sweeter than his personal business coup in the deal; he had "bought into" the play, and when Stromberg paid for his release, Bellamy shared in the proceeds.

ON ANOTHER stage "Tomorrow the World" is being filmed by Lester Cowan, with Fredric March in the Bellamy role and Betty Field opposite. Joan Carroll is the little girl, but the newcomer to films—the one everyone wants to see—is the redoubtable Skippy Homeier with whom Bellamy so enjoyed tangle.

After all the praise he garnered for his realistic brattiness, Skippy turns out to be, somewhat disappointingly, a nice, polite kid of 13, three inches taller than when he first startled Broadway critics with his portrayal of juvenile nastiness. This was his first stage role, although he had done some radio, and perhaps one result of his success in such a mean character has been to make him lean over backwards to show he's not that "bad." You'd take him off-stage for a cheerful Boy Scout, well-mannered, respectful, regular.

George Vincent Homeier—the nickname Skippy came from the Jackie Cooper film of that title which his mother liked—is set for further films, at M-G-M, after his stint for Cowan.

SPAR NEVA DOVE

IN COLLIER'S ARTICLE

What happens when the U. S. Coast Guard teaches its SPARS the fine art of swimming is the content of an interesting article appearing in the current issue of Collier's under the byline of Ruth Carson. Among the bathing beauty-student swimmers depicted in the two-page spread is Spar Neva Dove of Warren, shown alone in two pictures and as a member of a group in another. Their instructor, George Fessler, says "it's a cinch to learn to swim. All you have to do is trust your instructor and do what he tells you. Out of 5,000 I've had only six failures. Women are easier to teach than men. They work harder."

Spar Dove, already seaman first class, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Dove, West street, and is not one of those who fear the water. She learned to swim at an early age in the Conewango Creek, practically in her own back yard, and when the time came passed her senior life saving tests without having to take intervening instruction and tests.

Pvt. William Rhoades of Shepard Field, Texas is home on ten-day furlough with his wife in Clarendon before reporting to a new station in California.

Pvt. Merle G. Fox has returned to Columbia, S. C., after a 14-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Fox, 7 Monroe street.

WOUNDED IN ACTION

Two from this section are included among 10 Pennsylvanians wounded in action and made public today in announcement by the War Department. They are: Sgt. Raymond L. Gates, son of Mrs. Ethel Gates, Torpedo RD 1, and Pvt. Edward G. Sherman, son of Carl Sherman, Bear Lake RD 1.

SAFE IN TUNISIA

Mrs. Richard Evans, Cayuga avenue, has received a letter from her son, Lt. Richard Evans, executive officer on a U. S. destroyer, that he safely traversed the Mediterranean and is now in Bizerte, Tunisia. They were attacked by German planes en route, he writes, but suffered no casualties.

Sgt. Albert Foy has been transferred from Long Island to a new base in Arkansas, according to word received by his wife, who returned yesterday to her home in Patterson, N. J., after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McFarland, 205 Frank street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Weaver, N. Irvine street, have received word from their son, Pvt. Donald Weaver, that he has arrived safely in England.

William Stewart, seaman second class, is spending an eight-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stewart, Hemlock street.

NURSING OFFICER GETS TRANSFERRED

It is learned today from Richmond, Va., that Lt. Eleanor W. Shea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Shea, of Clarendon, has been transferred from the hospital at Fort George G. Meade, Md., to duty with the Army Nurse Corps at McGuire General Hospital in Richmond, Lt. Shea received her commission in June of this year. She attended St. Joseph's parochial school and Warren High School before going away to Slippery Rock State Teachers College. Her professional training was taken at St. Vincent's Hospital in Erie. McGuire General is the army's huge, new 1,784-bed hospital located near Richmond and designated by the War Department as an evacuation center for overseas sick and wounded returning through the Hampton Roads port of debarkation.

FLIES TO ECUADOR

Donald E. Wolfe has arrived back at Camp Hood, Texas, after a 14-day furlough with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Gail Wolfe, 5 Hill street, and other relatives and friends. He is an instructor in the auto department of the tank destroyer school and one of his recent experiences was to fly by plane to Ecuador to repair tanks. Upon his return he was awarded the American Medal.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roberts 17 West Wayne street received word Wednesday that their son Pvt. Dean A. Roberts has arrived safely in England. Pvt. Roberts was formerly located at Camp Claiborne, and more recently at Camp Reynolds near Greenville.

Mrs. Robert Shine, 1154 Parker street, has received word that her husband, who recently completed his boot training at Bainbridge, Md., has arrived at Virginia Beach, Va., to attend Communications school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shine, Cobham Park road.

Pvt. Gerald H. Loomis, who has been transferred from Camp Blanding, Fla., to Fort Meade, Md., is spending some time enroute with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Loomis, Sugar Grove.

Pvt. Robert E. Meleen has arrived from Camp Chaffee, Ark., to spend a 14-day furlough with his wife and parents.

"WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

Would Abolition of the Closed Shop Be a Step Toward Industrial Peace?

As debated by

Maurice R. Franks
National Business Agent,
Railroad Yardmasters of North America, Inc.—Editor, Railroad Workers Journal

Dr. Broadus Mitchell
Economist, and Research Director of the
International Ladies Garment Workers Union

MR. FRANKS OPENS:

The abolition of the closed shop would not only be a step toward industrial peace, it would be practically a complete flight up the stairway to industrial Utopia. We fight to abolish political dictatorship. We must assume the abolition of an economic dictatorship definitely lead to a more harmonious and productive system of industrialism. Our fighting men will return to their homeland expecting to engage in gainful employment operated under a basis of Americanism void of dictatorship. Imagine their disillusionment to find a condition of dictatorship in industry—the closed shop by which they must pay a toll for the right to work—whether or not they believe or understand the principles of unionism. The closed shop is inconsistent to everything consistent with good Americanism. It infringes upon the intent of 3 of the 4 freedoms—(1) freedom of speech—if the worker is forced to accept this system without expressing willingness to do so, (2) freedom from want—if a worker through not accepting the closed shop is prevented from earning a living, (3) freedom from fear—if the worker is in constant fear of conditions imposed through the closed shop which may be the means of his losing his membership in the union and his right to earn a living.

DR. MITCHELL CHALLENGES:

Unions have learned that if union membership in a shop is allowed to be diluted by employment of non-union workers, the hold of the union, and, therefore, the maintenance of union standards is progressively weaker. Why should workers unwilling to make sacrifices to enjoy improved union conditions insist on benefiting by these conditions, so long as requirements for membership in the union are reasonable? The more unions are recognized in law and fact as useful instruments in society, the less will be the insistence of certain unions on unjustifiable practices limiting the number of people entering and working in any trade. Thus, the closed shop with the closed union ceased to be important in Great Britain, with its fuller acceptance of unionism, before the same was true here.

MR. FRANKS REPLIES:

Finally, it is not my intention to try to sell several phases of unionism in this debate as my opponent seems to be inclined to do. Unionism, as originally laid down, is virtuous enough to be meritoriously sold to any worker. I say the closed shop or union shop is the same pill with a different coating. I believe this system to be dictatorial and not needed in a democracy. Therefore, no matter how much debate is made on this question, the final decision can only be—the closed shop, the union shop or the open shop are all systems of force and should be outlawed.

DR. MITCHELL REPLIES:

What is wanted is the union shop. Most unions in America are in no position to close their doors. At present, hardly more than one-fourth of American workers are organized. In many instances, unions accept a preferential union shop, which is to say, union men are to be hired as long as available and non-union workers are to be discharged before union workers. Unfair monopolistic practices often recoil against unions themselves, not least by robbing union officials and members of constant activity in organizing the unorganized. The closed shop, interpreted to mean the effective union shop, is no longer a question for debate in this country.

PACIFIC PROMOTION

Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Smith, of Bear Lake, have received word that their son, Manfred N. Smith (better known as Gerry) has been advanced to third class signalman at his U. S. Navy post in the South Pacific. He received his boot training at Great Lakes, Ill., after entering naval service July 6, 1943, and was assigned to duty in October of last year. Prior to that he attended Lettsville High School and was employed on the farm of R. D. Atkins.

Ralph H. Wagner, pharmacist's mate third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wagner, 516 Fourth avenue, arrived home late Wednesday for a short leave. He will return next Monday to his station at Great Lakes, Ill.

Cpl. T/5 Robert F. Curtin and wife, of Camp McCain, Miss., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Curtin, Sheffield RD 2, and Mrs. Emma Carlson, Jamestown, N. Y. Bob will return to his duties at camp this weekend but Mrs. Curtin plans to stay until the latter part of August before returning to Mississippi.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jackson, 212 Canton street, have received word that their son, Pvt. George H. Jackson, has arrived safely in England.

They Don't All Fight to the End

Some Japs may have fought with fanatical fury to the bitter end, but not the pair seen in the photo above. Upon the approach of the group of Marines in background, they popped up out of their Saipan Island foxholes, arms aloft in surrender. Marines, being wise to Nip tricks, kept discreet distance until sure surrender's on the up-and-up.

Dead Cattle for Cover

Two Yank soldiers use the bodies of dead cattle for cover as German shells whine over their heads near Periers, during bitter fighting to capture the important city of St. Lo, France.

YOUNGSVILLE NEWS

Youngsville, July 27—Mrs. Carlton Foss of Sugar Grove, former missionary to Burma, will be the guest speaker Sunday morning at the 11 a. m. service of the Methodist church. All are cordially invited to hear her inspiring message.

Warren to Have Cardinal Two-Day Try-Out Camp Soon

St. Louis Cardinals Will Conduct Baseball School At State Hospital Next Month

Word has been received at the Y. M. C. A. from C. S. "Pop" Kelchner that a two-day try-out camp for the St. Louis Cardinals will be held sometime in August at the State Hospital field.

"Red" Swanson, manager of the Struthers-Wells baseball team and Lloyd Shirk, program secretary of the Y. M. C. A., have been contacted by "Pop" Kelchner, responding with "Pop" Kelchner, scout for the St. Louis Cardinals, for the past month and a half in regards to securing this opportunity for the baseball youth of Warren and vicinity to play under the eye of a big league scout.

The State Hospital authorities are giving the project their fullest cooperation and have given permission to use the State Hospital field for the try-out camp.

This field is ideally suited for the purpose and will afford to baseball aspirants an excellent opportunity to display their talent to best advantage.

The try-out camp will probably be held on a Friday and Saturday sometime around the middle of August. Similar camps are being held in Clearfield and Washington and it is thought that the Warren camp will be included in the same swing around the western part of the state. The camps are usually conducted from 11 A. M. to 4 P. M.

"Pop" Kelchner is well-known in big league circles as he has been a scout for the St. Louis Cardinals for the past twenty-some years. He has many friends in his credit chief among them being Charley Gelbert of world series fame.

Outstanding Colored Team Will Play Forge At Wilder Field Sunday Afternoon At 3

The first colored team to visit this vicinity during the current baseball season will be seen at Wilder Field, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Monessen Grays come here to tackle the National Forge nine.

As previously reported, the Monessen team has an outstanding record, being more than a run-off-the-mill colored outfit. The best comparison between the Grays and the Forge can be drawn from the fact that the colored boys have scored a victory over the Pittsburgh Oaks, leader in the Greater Pitt-burgh League in which Dormont is one of the top contenders. Dormont battled the Forge for 13 innings last Sunday before being defeated, 2-1.

As a result of the great amount of talk concerning this week-end game, management of the Forge team is planning to handle one of the largest crowds of the season.

With Freddy Gagliardi slated to mound chores for the Forge, the local team will present its regular lineup against the colored foes. This will include Harry Rosequist behind the plate, Mike Solock at first, Andy Natale at second, Dick Giegerich at third, Emory Morrison at shortstop, Forman in left field, Taylor in center and Warren in right.

The starting lineup for the Monessen Grays, as announced by the team's manager this week, will include Johnson pitching, Fuller catching, Clinton at first, McKeever at second, Terry at third, PePetterman at shortstop, Forman in left field, Taylor in center and Warren in right.

While the Forge ball players are concentrating on their game with the Monessen club at the present time, they are also looking forward to a pair of important contests over the following week-end.

The Bell Aircraft Comets, of Buffalo, one of the leading outfits in western New York, will provide the attraction at that time. The club will meet the Forge first on Saturday, August 5, when the Irvine plant holds its employees' picnic at Wilder Field. The following day, Sunday, August 6, the Bell team will again tackle the Forge in a public attraction.

Manager Nick Creola is dickering for some more outstanding games and several strong teams will be seen here before the curtain is rung down on the current campaign.

Tough Match Expected At CVCC Sunday

A large crowd is expected to trail the two finalists in the Coney Valley Country Club championship play when they tee off Sunday morning at 10:00 a. m. Tim Creal, three-time champion, and Bill Rice, usually a top contender for honors, will battle through 36 holes, if necessary, to decide this year's titleholder and indications are that it may go the full route.

Creal, one of the longest hitters and the most consistent all-around golfer at the club, is odds-on favorite to repeat for his fourth straight season, but if Rice's putter clicks, it will make up some of the difference in lengthy iron and wood shots. The latter's short game is considered on a par with the best this year and this point may also mean plenty when the chips are down.

Indications are that Creal this year has drawn one of his toughest assignments in his years of coping the local links toga and betting still heavily favors his corner, but many have given Rice pretty good odds to score an upset particularly if he can score a good first round on the opening eighteen and hold his opponent within reach.

PONY LEAGUE

Buffalo, N. Y., July 23.—(P)—The Lockport Cubs increased by 12 points last night their already-substantial 61-point lead over the PONY league field as they took both ends of a doubleheader from Erie, 3-2, 7-1.

An error in the first inning lost the opener for Erie. The Sailors had bunched three hits for a pair of runs, only to lose their lead when the Cubs followed suit. With two out, Don Brennan muffed Greg Mulcahy's bunt and Zazke Freeman scored from third with the winning run.

Jamestown and Batavia split another doubleheader. The Clippers won the seven-inning first game, 4-2, but were nosed out by Jamestown, 2-1 in the 11th inning of the nightcap.

The Hornell Pirates got 14 hits off Bradford pitcher Crimin to defeat the Blue Wings 6-4, and Wellsville eked out a 5-4 victory over Olean in a game that went to 12 innings.

Is it ever wise to BORROW?

No one should borrow unnecessarily, but there are times when a loan is the best solution to a money problem. Thousands of letters in our files tell of the many worth-while things made possible by a Personal loan. If you need extra cash, perhaps a Personal loan would be to your advantage.

Personal makes loans promptly, and privately, without involving outsiders. Sensible monthly payments are arranged, and the cost is surprisingly low. For example: $30 for 2 weeks costs less than 53c. Getting a loan at Personal is as simple as opening a charge account. Come in, phone or write us today.

County Lagging in Sale of Fifth War Loan "E" Bonds

Figures supplied by the Warren County War Finance Committee show a slight improvement in the standing of this county for the sale of "E" bonds in the Fifth War Loan. The Federal Reserve reports indicate that Warren county has reached 51% of its quota for "E" bonds, but still lags with only 48% of the quota of sales to individuals. The War Bond Committee has been surprised at this comparison with sales in the four previous War Loans, when Warren county was among the leaders in the Fort Pitt area and the entire State of Pennsylvania. It is known that some further subscriptions through those on the pay roll deduction plan will augment the present total and, even though the goal of 100% may not be reached, it is hoped that 75% or more may be attained.

ARGENTINA'S ACTION IS GIVEN APPROVAL

Buenos Aires, July 28.—(P)—Several thousand persons, voicing approval of the government's foreign policy with shouts of "Argentin yes, Yankees no," participated last night in an orderly demonstration during which a noise bomb exploded in front of the building occupied by the newspaper La Nacion.

The crowd assembled in front of the U. S. embassy where, as a precaution, women employees had been sent home early. The explosion, which injured no one but shattered a shop window, occurred as the main demonstration was moving toward the foreign ministry, several blocks away.

HERO HONORED

Tunneton, July 28.—(P)—A hero of the first daylight Flying Fortress rain over Berlin, Tech. Sgt. Steve Koback was being honored today by his fellow townspeople and employees at Federal Laboratories' Plant No. 3 where he once worked. The informal celebration, honoring Koback and 91 other former employees now in the service, is in conjunction with an inspection tour of the plant by four officers from the Army's Chemical Warfare Service unit at Pittsburgh.

Over 50,000 Nazis Face Entrapment in Pocket on Seacoast

(From Page One)
While the Americans rapidly expanded the 100-mile Normandy line, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British and Canadian forces broke up one small German counterattack after another south of Caen.

With giant strides Bradley's six steaming spearheads appeared to have precipitated a broad German withdrawal.

One spearhead stabbed to Notre Dame De Cenilly on its left, taking that town 11 miles southwest of St. Lo and about the same distance from the jumpoff point in the offensive.

Here the Americans were nine miles southeast of Coutances, while other columns of the same movement spread along an eight-mile front were pointed at the city itself. The nearest was within gunfire of the only bridge affording escape at Coutances for the Germans.

Others pushed to Ledeshayes six miles south of Marigny and to the Souilles woods, 3 1/2 miles south of Canisy.

Two other spearheads closed in from the north from the north from captured Lessay and Periers. Highballing down the highway from Normandy toward Brittany, one column had reached a point within 1 1/2 miles of Tassy-Sur-Vire, 10 miles south of St. Lo.

Another column was fanning out to the west. These twin spearheads southwest of St. Lo were aimed at Avranches, at the base of the Normandy Peninsula and behind the Cotentin. Avranches is 30 miles below St. Lo.

Coming through Le Mesnil Herman, they were in position to swing west to join the forces driving on Coutances, or to Veer east and joint the sixth spearhead which had cleared a 13-mile stretch of the road running east from St. Lo to Caumont.

Bradley thus had put the Germans in the position every commander dreams of—stalled on a wide front by numerous forces which had a bewildering profusion of opportunities to converge, fan out, encircle and cut off the opposing troops.

Field dispatches said at least 3,000 prisoners were taken in the first two days of the offensive.

As the tanks, half-tracks and self-propelled artillery units continued their advance, American Doughboys mopped up by-passed pockets of German resistance. Two stubborn pockets in the fire river bend just west and south of St. Lo were wiped out.

Everything In Readiness For Young People's Party Tonight

Everything is ready for the Community Young People's Party, which starts at 8 o'clock this evening at Beatty school. Regardless of the weather, the committee has arrangements made to have dancing either inside or out. The cabaret style which proved so popular in the first two parties will be carried out again tonight, for young people in their teens and twenties.

The outside court has had another application of wax for the outside dancing. The orchestra will start playing at 8:30 and the floor show will go on at 10:30. Nick Geracimos and Bill Clinger had a rehearsal for the floor show last evening to see that everything would go smoothly tonight. Bob Wilder and Giulio Fino have been experimenting with lighting effects for the outside court.

The decorating committee headed by Virginia Johnson and Georgia Spinney, worked last night and this afternoon. Teresa Fino's committee on refreshments will have soft drinks at the coke bar or the tables.

Hugh Jamieson's equipment committee will have the courts ready inside the gym for shuffleboard, badminton and ping pong. The games open at 8 o'clock. Any one can sign up for his turn if the courts are filled.

Special adult guests at this evening's party are Mrs. Harry Schmidt Dr. and Mrs. William E. Biddle, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hanson; Mr. and Mrs. Nick Mangus, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harris, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor and Miss Cecelia Burch.

Air Express Shows Growth In Past Year

Agent Gilmore, of the local express office during the present month has handled 60 air express shipments out of the local office and he drew attention to the fact that for the same month last year only 16 shipments were forwarded. This is a wonderful showing and brings a realization of the fact that the use of the air as a means of transport is becoming more and more recognized.

On Wednesday the planes on both south bound flights were forced to land here to pick up shipments. In all there were six shipments being forwarded by express with a total weight of 312 pounds. Yesterday there were a number of small shipments but not heavy enough to necessitate a landing of the planes here.

Chapter 19

FOR once she did not follow Angel and beg to comfort her, although Angel's wild sobs were like knife-thrusts in her heart. "Poor Angel," she thought sadly, as she walked down the hall to the kitchen. "I've failed her too. I've failed her. I never did it before, and God forbid that I should ever do it again." A grim smile touched her lips, and she added, unexpectedly, "I waited too long. I should have done it twenty years ago."

All of Martha's bravado was gone when, a few evenings later, she recounted the incident to Louise.

"I-I don't know what ever possessed me to do such a dreadful thing. It was the last thing in the world I meant to do. She'll never forgive me. I-I suppose I should apologize."

Louise got up from her chair, came over and gave her mother a playful pat on the wrist, then kissed her gently on the cheek. "If you do that," she warned, "know somebody else who's going to get slapped." She paused to lean over and kiss Martha again. "Don't worry, darling, Angel asked for it. She's been asking for it a long time."

Martha looked up at her gratefully, but said nothing. Louise went back to her chair, vaguely disappointed that Martha had not chosen to continue the subject. This was the first time they'd discussed Angel—in fact, the first time in weeks they'd had a chance for a real talk.

Chapter 20

HE WAS standing at the window, pretending to look out, his back toward Louise. Closing the door softly, she went over and put a hand on his arm. "What on earth has happened, Bobby?" she whispered, hoping Martha had heard nothing, but feeling pretty sure she had. "You—you haven't been drinking, have you?" Bobby shrugged away from her, still keeping his back turned. "Keep your hands to yourself," he muttered.

Louise's hands fell to her side. "But—but what's happened? If—if you're in trouble of some kind, maybe I could—"

"Maybe you could try minding your own damn business and keeping out of mine," he flared, turning now to face her. "Can't a fellow have any privacy around here? Maybe I don't want to tell you what's happened. And I haven't been drinking, if that's what's worrying you—but maybe that's none of your business either."

No, Bobby hadn't been drinking—Louise could see that now. "But, Bobby, you're hurt! Your suit's torn, and your face is all bleeding!" As she spoke Louise went over to the sink and began to wring out a cloth in a pan of water.

"Sit down over there on the cot, Bobby," she told him. "Let's get that face washed and find out the extent of the damages. Mother will throw fits if she sees you like this."

Bobby sat down docilely enough, but before Louise could bring the washpan over, Martha had come into the kitchen. She

Before Martha could recover herself enough to speak, the front door opened quietly, and there was a sound of footsteps going down the hall. Louise ran to the living room door just in time to see Bobby, the saxophone under his arm, slip into Angel's room.

Puzzled, she hurried down the hall and stood watching while Bobby opened the cedar chest, wrapped the saxophone carefully in one of Martha's old silk dresses, and put it inside, where it had been. When he had closed the chest, he turned and saw Louise. Muttering something under his breath, he brushed past her, scurried down the hall and into the kitchen, closing the door behind him.

For a fraction of a second Louise hesitated. Then she took a long breath and followed Bobby into the kitchen. She had seen the dark smear of blood across Bobby's cheek, the long, jagged tear in his precious zoot suit, the defiant, desperate look in his eyes.

old cedar chest again. That's how come I got so messed up. Had a fight with the guy."

Martha stopped in her tracks. "But, Bobby, if you sold it, you had no right to take it back."

"Yes, I did, too," said Bobby stoutly. "It was in the agreement. He was to pay me five bucks a month till it was all paid for. He did pay the first month. That's when I contracted for this suit of clothes." He looked down at the torn zoot suit, and his chin trembled a trifle. "Now it's all ruined, and it's not even paid for. I bought it on time, aiming to pay with the saxophone money. But the guy didn't pay—so how could I pay? Anyhow, I got the saxophone back."

Martha nodded, but a note of uncertainty crept into her voice as she said, "I—I guess it's all right, dear—if you say so."

"YOU'RE darn tootin' it's all right, Mom," returned Bobby. "And now I think I'll be hitting the hay. Feel sort of all-in after my bout with that guy."

"That's a fine idea. Go to bed and try to get a good night's sleep," Martha smiled and fluffed up the pillows on Bobby's bed. "If you'll give me that—er—zoot suit, dear, I'll mend it tonight. It'll be almost as good as new, I promise."

Bobby peeled off the garish outfit and handed it to her. "Thanks, Mom. Did anybody ever tell you you're a pretty swell fella? Well, I'm telling you now. Thanks, son. I don't know of anybody I'd rather hear say it."

She kissed him good night and went out of the room, the oversized suit across her arm. As she walked up the hall toward the living room, a deep glow of happiness enveloped her heart.
